The double crescent shell edging is found only in Carter suits. This charming finish gives a little feminine look to even the most practical suit.

There are so many reasons for having children wear Carter's. The reinforced strong, flat seams, the rempered buttonholes, the buttons that do not pull off. And Carter suits never get harsh and prickly.

Wrangel Takes 15,000 Prisoners

ANY CANNON, HUGE QUANTITIES OF WAR MATERIAL CAPTURED

GERMANS ACTIVE.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WARSAW, Oct. 26.—Thousands of rifles and machine guns, with some artillery, are reported to have been transported from East Prussia into Lithuania recently, and trainloads of German soldiers are going there, according to information reaching Warsaw from Vilna and elsewhere today.

The inter-Allied commission is investigating to determine if Germany is in any way violating the Versailles treaty by these shipments. Information from Vilna is that some of the German soldiers arriving in Lithuania are from Central Germany.

Gen. Zeligouski, commanding the troops occupying Vilna, has been making defensive preparations. Rail communication between Vilna and Warsaw, which was interrupted by the destruction of bridges and territorial disputes, has been resumed.

PARIS GETS REPORT.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Oct. 26.—News that military movements have been going on for some weeks clandestinely in East Prussia, involving the advance of considerable numbers of German troops with cannon and machine guns into Lithuania, has reached the Foreign Office through the Inter-Allied mission.

The government of East Prussia explains that the movements are normal and without special significance, but the French authorities are suspicious that they are being made with a view to possible support of the Lithuanians against the Poles.

Mrs. Vanderbilt Will Support Harding.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., has resigned from the finance committee of the Democratic National Committee, and today sent a donation to the campaign fund of the Republican National Committee. She would only state that she was unable to continue to support Mr. Cox and had decided to vote for Harding.

Mrs. Vanderbilt has heretofore been an ardent Democrat. She was selected by Ambassador Gerard as a member of the Democratic National finance committee. She has always taken a very active part in many of the greatest charitable organizations of the city of New York and has been particularly well known in her work for children as a member of the executive committee of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

NEW YORK FAVORS HARDING

BY HARRY CARR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Now that the last cat is getting ready to swing in the Presidential campaign, it looks very much like a big Republican victory. New York always has been a pivotal and crucial point in national politics. It is the more so this year because so many of the vital issues of the struggle concern foreign affairs—and New York is essentially a foreign city.

As far as I can see, the feeling is rather apathetic toward both candidates, but far warmer toward Harding than Cox. In the theaters, on Broadway, Cox often does not get a single hand of applause. Harding always gets a warm recognition, but nothing for the police to suppress. The truth is that a picture of Roosevelt on the screen gets more applause than either one of them.

COX SUPPORT WAN.

The support of Cox by the Democratic papers of New York is decidedly pale and wan. The World, which has always been the organ of the Wilson administration, is having a frantic time trying to straddle between a bitter hatred for England and a strenuous advocacy of Cox and his world brotherhood dreams.

The Times is independent Democratic, which is another way of saying that once in a while it gets a Democratic pill that it can't gulp down. The Times with dignified fury advocates the League of Nations, but has precious few words to say about Jimmy Cox.

In fact, the attitude of the Democratic party in New York toward Cox may be summed up in Shakespearean language, "He is a poor thing, but he is mine own."

There is no question about it; they do not point to Jamesy with pride.

Gov. Cox seems to be a politician

ANTHRACITE MINERS ASK WAGE BOOST.

Demand Minimum Rate of $6 and Universal Eight-Hour Day in Industry.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—Wage increases equal to the 27 per cent recently granted the bituminous miners, with a minimum day rate of $6 and a universal eight-hour day in the hard-coal region, were demanded by representatives of the anthracite mine workers today at a conference with the coal operators.

Under the Presidential anthracite commission's award the hard-coal men were given an average increase of 17 per cent with a minimum day rate of $4.20.

The operators, without discussion, took the matter under consideration and will present their answer to the miners at another meeting to be held here November 5.

No ultimatum or threat of strike was presented to the operators in connection with the miners' proposals, according to Thomas Kennedy, chairman of the miners' committee.

GRASPING AT STRAWS

Democrats Give Up All Hope.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—If Gov. Cox should be elected President next Tuesday there would be few persons more surprised than his own campaign managers at Democratic national headquarters here.

After discussing the situation with the topmost leaders of the Cox campaign today I am of the opinion that they have given up hope of electing the Democratic candidate and are concentrating their last-week drive on the effort to elect a Democratic Senate.

There was a round-up of Democratic Chairman George White and his lieutenants this morning at which the party prospects were assayed.

Reports from various parts of the country that "there is a noticeable trend to Cox" were examined. Wilbur Marsh, the treasurer, reported $17,000 additional contributions in the first mail and a gold watch from Edgar Carlton Stinger of Clear Lake, Minn., who said he wished he had some money to give.

WHITE ISSUES STATEMENT.

After the conference Mr. White issued a statement asserting that "the Harding high command is panic stricken" and that "by the end of the week the panic will be complete."

So much for the surface developments of the day. Beneath the surface there is a different aspect of the situation. When I say that the Cox campaign managers themselves would be surprised by the election of the Ohio Governor, I speak advisedly. I cannot state the reasons in detail, for that would be a betrayal of confidence.

There is no breach of confidence in saying, however, that Mr. White now relies upon the newly enfranchised women and the influence wielded by ministers of the gospel and college presidents to save Cox from defeat. He thinks he perceives gains for Cox already as the result of the appeal of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, of the 17,000 preachers. Democratic committee says are working for the League of Nations and of President Emeritus Eliot of Harvard and other presidents of colleges.

Chairman White is hoping that such influences which are largely an unknown quantity will be sufficient to upset the apparent advantage of the Republicans and enable Cox to scrape through. He would not wager much on the hope, however, for as a practical politician he knows that gains from these quarters cannot be relied upon to affect results, except possibly in a few closely contested States. There are not many such States this year and their total electoral vote is comparatively small.

What Republican headquarters pronounce Cox's eleventh hour wabbling on the League the Democratic leaders believe will gain votes for the ticket. The Democratic candidate now hints that he would accept the Lodge reservations if again voted by the Senate. This is a break-away from Wilson which is welcomed by those Democrats who believe Cox

HARDING QUOTED AT SIX TO ONE.

Wall Street Sees Easy Republican Victory; Cox Money Continues Scarce.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Harding continues to rule a 6-to-1 favorite in odds quoted on the Presidential election in the Wall Street district, the drive of the Democratic candidate in New York not having had the effect of shortening the ratio.

There is plenty of Republican money in sight, but there is little disposition on the part of the supporters of Gov. Cox to risk a wager. The financial district in the main is strongly of the opinion that Harding will have an easy victory.

THIRD ROBBER ALSO HIT IN GUN BATTLE ON EL MONTE ROAD EARLY THIS MORNING

In a revolver battle with three Mexican bandit suspects near El Monte early today Motorcycle Officer John J. Alder of El Monte, aided by George Hamlin, owner of an El Monte garage, killed two of the Mexicans and seriously wounded the third member of the trio. Officer Alder was shot through the right hip and left wrist, but will recover. The officer and the wounded Mexican were both removed to the County Hospital for treatment.

One of the dead Mexicans was identified by the officers as Sabino Orona from letters in his pockets. The other slain man had no mark of identification.

The wounded Mexican told the deputies his name was Selentino M. Perez, but refused to reveal the name of the unidentified dead man.

Alder first became suspicious of the Mexicans when he watched them roaming about the streets of El Monte in a small touring car. He called upon the Mexicans to halt, but, instead, they speeded up their machine and fled east on the El Monte high road.

Summoning Mr. Hamlin, who had a fats automobile, the officer gave chase and overhauled the suspects' car about a mile east of El Monte. Climbing upon the running-board of the Mexicans' machine, Alder ordered the trio to put up their hands. Then Orona shot the officer, who fell to the ground.

Hamlin then opened fire and shot Orona, the driver of the auto, through the head, killing him instantly. The other two Mexicans jumped from the car and ran toward a barn near by. Alder by this time had gotten to his feet and had reloaded his revolver. He fired at the fleeing men and one of them, Perez, stopped and surrendered. He was shot through both arms and had a scalp wound on his head. After handcuffing Perez to their automobile, Mr. Hamlin and the officer chased the third Mexican to the barn. Believing that he had intrenched himself in the building, they telephoned the Sheriff's office in this city for aid. Deputies Cronin, Johnson and Cubbage rushed to the scene of the fight and surrounded the barn, only to find that the third Mexican had reached the rear of the building and had then dropped to the ground—dead.

In the Mexicans' machine was found a quantity of money and a valuable diamond ring, which the officers believe was stolen in a robbery. Efforts will be made today to trace this ring. A large quantity of ammunition also was found.

The bodies of the dead Mexicans were taken to the Shammel undertaking rooms in El Monte.

McADOO LOSES VOICE AND ABANDONS FIELD.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 26.— Hundreds of people were unable to gain admission to the Elks' Clubhouse tonight to hear the scheduled address of William G. McAdoo, and the hundreds of others inside were later disappointed on receiving the announcement that the former Railroad Administrator has lost his voice and on the advice of his physicians had left for the East.

Mr. McAdoo, with great difficulty, made a short address at San Bernardino at 4 o'clock.

The local audience was promised a substitute in the person of Francis J. Heney, who commenced his address at 8:30 o'clock and spoke for two hours on the League of Nations. During the course of the evening the speaker offered to pay $50 out of his own pocket to any local Republican daily newspaper that would publish statements quoted by him and credited to Theodore Roosevelt, ex-President Taft, Senator Lodge and other Republicans. Roosevelt was declared to have been the original author of Article 10 in 1914.

Mr. Heney devoted considerable time to Senator Johnson and Senator Harding and he charged inconsistency in their respective pronouncements concerning the League Covenant.

ARE FARMERS ON STRIKE?

Decrease in Wheat Receipts Marked and Prices Advance.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26.—Whether farmers of the Southwest are obeying a strike call issued recently by the Wheat Growers' Association, in the form of a proclamation calling upon its members in several States to withhold their wheat from the market until a basic price of $3 a bushel was reached, could not be ascertained here tonight.

Reports from some grain centers today attributed decreases in the wheat supply received and an increase in price to the proclamation. No widspread curtailment of wheat was reflected today in the grain markets of the southwest, grain men said.

DENIES MOVEMENT.

J. C. Mohler, secretary of the Kansas Board of Agriculture, tonight declared there was no farmers' strike in that State and said that probably only a minority of the grain growers in Kansas would back the movement.

On the other hand W. H. McGreevy of Wichita, Kan., secretary of the Wheat Growers' Association, declared the strike was in effect and that the farmers are in the fight to stay.

Wheat will go to $3 per bushel within ninety days, due to the refusal of the association members to sell, the secretary predicted prior to receipt of news that the market in Chicago had stiffened today, due to a reported falling off in deliveries. Mr. McGreevy stated that he expected no increase for thirty days, by which time the farmers will have made their strike felt. Sixty days more will see the goal of $3 wheat attained, he said.

CLAIM 70,000 MEMBERS.

The association proclaimation requesting that no more wheat be sold until the price went to $3 went into effect last night. Confidence that practically the entire membership of the association would remain firm in the decision not to sell was expressed by the secretary.

The association has a membership of about 70,000, according to McGreevy. That some bankers are calling in loans to farmers is indicated in information received at the association headquarters in Wichita, Mr. McGreevy said, adding that he regarded such a movement as a board of trade step to break the strike.

He said the Garber, Okla., branch of the association had reported today that farm loans there were being called in by bankers.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The police guard at Brixton prison was again increased today. The total number of the guard there is unknown, as most of the troops are kept under cover, but there is a considerable garrison inside the gates.

Sinn Feiners who arrived from Cork and other parts of Ireland for the obsequies went to Brixton prison in little parties throughout the day to see where the Lord Mayor had died. They were all wearing Sinn Fein colors, draped with mourning. Enterprising street vendors also were selling Sinn Fein rosettes bordered with mourning close to the prison entrance, while the police looked on without comment.

Deputy Lord Mayor O'Callaghan and other members of the Cork corporation visited the prison this afternoon and were granted permission to view MacSwiney's body.

Government inquiries of members of the family regarding arrangements for the funeral of Lord Mayor MacSwiney have been interpreted by Father Dominic, the late Lord Mayor's private chaplain, as an indication that there will be no interference with the family's plans and that the body will be turned over to them immediately after the inquest. This, the Home Office states, will be held Wednesday morning.

The body is still in the Brixton prison mortuary, clothed in a coarse brown Franciscan habit.

It is reported from Dublin that all the members of the Dail Eireann, or Irish Republican Parliament, intend to come to London for the obsequies here. It is also stated that a body guard of fifty Irish volunteers will attend the funeral party throughout the journey.

COOLIDGE IN FINAL APPEAL.

Declares Party Walks High-roads of Government.

Only One Issue in Campaign, He Asserts.

Makes Stand for Government of Laws, Not Men.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The Republican party "walks the high-road of American government for Americans and the American people walk with that party," Gov. Coolidge declared in a final pre-election statement, made public here tonight.

The Republican Vice-Presidential candidate said the issues of the campaign, in the minds of most Americans, have been reduced to one—the question whether our government shall or shall not be a constitutional government, a government of laws and not of men.

"The Republican party," the candidate asserted, "stands upon the foundation of our American Constitution. It will not depart from it. The Democratic party, under the spell of a dominating personality, has stepped down from that foundation, and points to a mirage in which there is no sustenance and no life.

STREWN WITH WRECKAGE.

"The shores of history are strewn with the wreckage of republics which fell before the ambitions of selfish despots, or which disintegrated beneath the blight of an unwise personal exaltation."

Gov. Coolidge's statement in part follows:

"The issues of this campaign are so simple, and they are so well understood by the people, that there can be no doubt of the verdict which the voters will give on November 2. These issues may be condensed and in the minds of most Americans have been condensed into one. That is, the question whether our government shall or shall not be a constitutional government—a government of laws and not of men.

"Every other consideration comes back to this. For unless we hold fast to those principles which are the heart and soul of our republic, it will matter little what else we do. It will avail us not at all to press a great purpose in the affairs of our brother nations if at home we have failed to maintain and apply our own proved righteousness of representative government.

"It is the continuous problem of government to adapt ourselves to new needs, but never to undermine the foundations of free government. The shores of history are strewn with the wreckage of republics which fell before the ambitions of selfish despots, or which disintegrated beneath the blight of an unwise personal exaltation.

STAMPEDE PEOPLE.

"Our own government can continue only upon the basis upon which it is built. And we can see through the world, and particularly we can see it at this time, the penalties exacted from those who let untrained and unthinking desires stampede the people from paths of sanity and those who would falsely, in the betrayed name of freedom, substitute a personal dictatorship for a government of, by and for the people.

"The Republican party demands correction of all the ills which have been bred in the false doctrines of extraconstitutional government; it demands removal of burdens placed upon the people through disregard of the same functions of government, functions which must be directed with wisdom and encompassed with thrift.

"The World War has been ended for two years; yet the burdens of that war rest heavily upon the shoulders of the American people. Waste which may be viewed with toleration under the stress of haste of war cannot be so regarded in times of peace.

"We are at peace. The technicalities of the situation do not remove the fact that we have no war with any land, nor do they alleviate the injury done the American people during the past two years and before the war, under the administration of the executive department of the government by the Democratic party.

PROBLEMS OF PEACE.

"The problems of peace are no less important than those of war. They demand as high dedication and as lofty fulfillment from those intrusted with the administration of government.

"The Republican party has always furthered by sound means the prosperity of our country. It will do so now. The Republican party, by its wise tariff policy, built an industrial America, which is one of the wonders of history. The need for this policy is again apparent to thinking men. The war for four years acted as a wall, but that is past, and already we are threatened with a perilous industrial competition expressed in terms threatening to the material and social welfare of every American who labors in the field of industry.

"The Republican party believes, as it always has believed, that American labor is entitled to receive from the government such legislation as shall guarantee a fair return for labor performed and that it is entitled to receive constant protection against aggressions from a competition based upon a scale of social existence alien and repugnant to Americans ideals of self-respect and American demands of material comfort.

"Much has been said of Americanism as the need of America and this is a commonplace fact. For no nation can exert either a material or a moral leadership in the world, or can find contentment for its people at home unless it keeps alive and flaming the inspiring fires of an honest nationalism. So we here in America need a deeper understanding of Americanism and a firm practice of it. For such an Americanism the Republican party stands. It is the Americanism of the American Constitution, the belief that our government should fulfill the guarantees of our Declaration of Independence, that life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness should be as much in the mind of modern statesmen as they were in the minds of the pioneers of American liberty.

"There is but one ark upon which our national faith may rest secure. It is our Constitution. Departure from that, whatever the profession of motive, is a journey towards the precipice beyond which is national disaster.

"The Republican party walks the highroad of American government for Americans. The American people walk with that party."

GOTHAM VOTERS FAVOR HARDING

very much the same type as Francis J. Heney. The only note he can sing is a shrill scream of rage. He calls first one and then another a liar.

The Democratic leaders spend most of their time pussyfooting after him, imploring him to use the soft pedal. His denunciation of the Republicans for raising a campaign fund was a fatal piece of stupidity and sent the leaky old Democratic ship out into the storm without any financial fuel. He maintains the stillness of the grave on the subject in these last days, but the damage has been done and the Democrats are unable to get any money.

WORSTED BY ROOT.

Cox has emerged in a frayed and dilapidated condition from his silly encounter with Elihu Root, whose cool measured reply to Mr. Cox's raucous challenge left the Democratic candidate decidedly the worse for wear.

In fact, Cox has come out at the little end of the horn from nearly every battle he has brought on.

This stuff used to be popular some years ago and perhaps is still in fashion in the corner grocery store discussion in Dayton, but the larger centers of population like New York merely yawn. They are frankly bored to death by the threshing excitement of Mr. Cox, whose greatest claim to distinction seems to be his unquestionable ability to maintain a nearly continuous state of frenzy.

COX HELPS HARDING.

Senator Harding is not the material from which great popular heroes are made. On the other hand he has a kindly, safe and sane personality that is looked upon with quiet approval. Cox has helped Harding by his assaults upon Harding's grammar and his conservatism in stating his intentions.

Continual harping on "normalcy" has been a help to Harding. There is a strain of sane common sense in the American people. They figure out that if Cox can't find anything worse than "normalcy" in Harding's record he is a pretty good man to put on the job.

HESITATION A BOOST.

Oddly enough, Harding's hesitation in committing himself to a foreign policy has also been a boost. It will be a great many generations before the American people are ever again willing to trust our foreign affairs to one single man. What they most demand of the next President is that he surround himself with the class of experts who are never in line for the White House—men like Henry Cabot Lodge, Senator Root and Hoover. The feeling that Root and Taft will be close in the Harding councils and that he will not complicate foreign relations before he gets their advice is a feeling that I find pretty general in New York. They look forward to an administration of great men.

GOOD-BY FOR WILSON.

I find there was an instant reaction against the Cox deft to Root wherein he stated that he intended to take counsel with Wilson after election. If ever a nation was waiting for the time to say good-by to a man it is to Woodrow Wilson.

I have found in no Democratic newspaper a real prediction of Cox's election. There have been on the other hand, many candid interviews and articles in which it is stated that Cox can be sure of nothing except the support of the solid South. The poll of the universities of the country indicated an overwhelming victory for the G.O.P. If Wilson's influence can't hold the university vote what can it do?

TOKIO, Oct. 26.—The political affairs committee of the Kensei-Kai, opposition party, has adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, that the anti-Japanese land legislation in California is not merely a threat against the development of the Japanese nation abroad, but also a menace to the advancement of international friendship between this empire and America. Viewed either from the standpoint of humanity and justice or the standpoint of Japan's rights acquired by treaty stipulations or from the principle of international friendship binding two neighboring nations, such unreasonable and unjust legislation cannot be tolerated. The imperial government is requested to insist upon Japan's right and to protest against such legislation, frankly expressing rightful reasons for objecting thereto, with the firm determination of accelerating a speedy solution of the pending question."

PACKERS SUBMIT ANOTHER PLAN.

Two of the "Big Five" File Proposals in Court.

Boston Bankers to Organize Stockyards.

Five Voting Trustees to be Named by Court.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—A substitute plan for the disposal of their holdings in stockyard market companies, stockyard terminal railroads and market newspapers was filed in the District of Columbia Supreme Court by Swift & Co. and Armour & Co., two of the "big five" packers.

Under the new plan F. H. Prince & Co., Bostoon bankers will organize the United Stockyards, Inc., under the laws of the State of Maine, to acquire part or all of the shares of the stockyard and market newspaper companies from which the two big packers must separate themselves under the consent decree recently filed in the court by agreement with the Department of Justice.

SYSTEM OF SHARES.

The United Stockyards, Inc., will be capitalized by issues of first preferred shares, second preferred shares and common shares of stock and by notes. Livestock growers and commission men are to be given preference in the purchase of the shares of the new company but the common shares alone will have voting power. Under the plan, the common shares "will be issued to or transferred to five voting trustees to be appointed by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia . . . to hold under voting trust for twenty years.

The voting trust will be given authority to enforce the conditions of the leases and operating agreements provided for in the plan. The proposal by F. H. Prince & Co. is that the companies whose shares are acquired by the United Stockyards, Inc., although managed locally, so far as possible, will be operated under leases to or operating agreements with the Chicago Stockyards Company for a period of twenty years.

The plan is a substitute for that filed with the court some weeks ago under which F. H. Prince & Co. were to have organized a holding company to take over the yards. The Department of Justice opposed that plan and Swift & Co. and Armour & Co. finally decided to present a new one subject to the approval of the government.

While offering no specific objection to the new plan, the Department of Justice announced that it would insist upon certain provisions in the decree of the court approving the plan.

DATE FOR HEARING.

The department was given until November 8 by the court to file objections to the new proposal, and November 16 was set as the date for the argument on the plan. Morris & Co. and the Cudahy Packing Company were given until the last named date to negotiate for admittance to the new proposal or for the sale otherwise of their stockyard holdings. It is understood that Wilson & Co. agreed to the new proposals.

BENSON SAYS BOARD SOUND; PRICES FALL.

Report on Shipping Being Prepared; Suit is Entered by Four Companies.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Belief that the financial condition of the Shipping Board was sound was expressed tonight by Chairman Benson, commenting on reports that it was running behind. He thought the merchant marine possibly was doing somewhat better than paying expenses.

A report is being prepared and will be made public, the chairman said. Data available, he added, indicated a steady decrease in expenses. Costs for ship construction are falling, he said, although the twenty-six passenger and cargo vessels being built by the board will mean a total outlay of about $140,000,000.

Work for other government departments was generally without pay, he added. Oil for the Navy is carried without payment, he said, and a number of tankers have been turned over to the Navy. Shipping Board operators generally are showing a profit, or paying expenses.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Suit for $3,353,416 damages against the United States Shipping Board and the Emergency Fleet Corporation was begun here today by the Huron, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Bingham-ton Steamship companies. The companies allege they lost this amount through failure of the two bodies to keep a promise to transfer to Canadian registry twelve steel freighters and to advance $750,000 to facilitate the construction of the vessels last year at the Virginia Shipbuilding Corporation yard at Alexandria.

Fred H. Anderson, Reno (Nev.) youth whose life was endangered Saturday at Reno by poison gas being thrown into his apartment, was in San Francisco today. Anderson is reported to be one of the chief witnesses in the present grand jury investigation of violations of the prohibition enforcement law.

Solemn requiem high mass will be sung at St. George's Cathedral Thursday, the celebrant being Father O'Meara, the administrator of that cathedral. Absolution will be given by Archbishop Mannix, the Australian prelate, and Bishop Cotter of Portsmouth.

POPE GETS THE NEWS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ROME, Oct. 26.—News of the death of Terence MacSwiney was received at the Vatican from the Associated Press, the news being communicated to Monsignor Cerretti, papal Undersecretary of State, who was deeply impressed by the tidings.

When Pope Benedict was informed of the death of the Lord Mayor, he showed deep regret, and then knelt, remaining a long time in silent prayer.

The death of Lord Mayor MacSwiney has caused consternation among the numerous Irish people here.

Only a short time before news of the Lord Mayor's death was received, Superior Gen. Hennessy, of the Christian Brothers of St. Mary's, Dublin, was received by the Pope.

THREE ARE KILLED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

DUBLIN, Oct. 26.—Three men were shot and killed by masked men who were alleged to be wearing khaki uniforms here yesterday. The shooting took place in the Thules district, one of the victims being the registrar of the local arbitration court. Michael Ryan was shot while lying in bed, where he had been suffering from pneumonia a week. It was reported last night that a political prisoner incarcerated in Mt. Joy prison was dead. The identity of the man was not announced.

RIOTING IN BELFAST.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BELFAST, Oct. 26.—Further rioting occurred here last night. Large crowds burned effigies of Terence MacSwiney, the late Lord Mayor of Cork, and a near-by party, mistaking the effigies for those of Premier Lloyd George, started exchanges with men burning the figures.

A fight was soon going on and the police, being powerless to quell the disorder, troops were summoned. Several shots were fired by the soldiers and order was restored.

John McLeod was shot and killed yesterday during a fight caused by the display of Sinn Fein flags.

CARDINAL TO PRESIDE.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—Cardinal Gibbons is expected to preside at a solemn requiem mass for Lord Mayor MacSwiney at the cathedral at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow.

The service has been arranged by representatives of local Irish societies, who conferred with Cardinal Gibbons at his residence.

The names if Michael Fitzgerald and Joseph Murphy, two Irish hunger strikers who died in Cork jail, also will be remembered in the prayers.

BAY CITY PLANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Memorial exercises, which will include a funeral procession with coffin and hearse, are being planned by the Irish societies here for next Sunday to commemorate the death of Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork. The procession, according to the plans being formulated, will be from the Civic Center to St. Mary's Roman Catholic Cathedral, where a solemn high requiem mass will be offered up for the repose of MacSwiney's soul.

The plans will be subject to the approval of the Rt. Rev. Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of the Catholic archdiocese of San Francisco, who will be asked to be celebrant of the mass. It is planned to have the Rev. Peter C. Yorke, pastor of St. Peter's Church, preach the eulogy.

An important council of ministers was held today under the chairmanship of Premier Giolitti. COUNCIL DISCUSSION.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BRUSSELS, Oct. 26.—The occupation of Vilna by Gen. Zeligouski was the subject of animated discussion by the Council of the League of Nations this morning.

Three eventualities were under consideration by the Council. The first of those was the expulsion of Zeligouski and the reinstallation of the Lithuanian authorities, but the League's military mission reported there was no force available for this purpose.

The second eventuality was continued occupation of Vilna by the Poles, and the third a plebiscite by which the inhabitants could express a desire for self-determination.

VESSELS BLOWN UP.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Oct. 26.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Helsingfors, Finland, reports today that two torpedo boats at Kronstadt, the Russian naval base, near Petrograd, have been blown up by rioters. It is asserted that sailors were involved in the rioting.

The message also alleges that the Bolsheviki have employed Chinese mercenaries to put down street fighting reported to have taken place in Petrograd and Kronstadt. There is no confirmation of these reports from other sources.

TREATY RATIFIED.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Oct. 26. — Ratification of the preliminary peace treaty between Poland and Bolshevik Russia was voted by the all-Russian soviet yesterday, according to a wireless message from Moscow.

George Tchitcherin, Bolshevik Foreign Minister, explained the pact, and declared Poland had refused assistance to Gen. Baron Wrangel, head of the anti-Bolshevik government of South Russia. He also asserted Poland had agreed not to lend aid to forces of reaction in Russia.

These agreements on the part of Poland, he said, were compromise measures which had been gained at the price of territorial concessions to the Polish government.

SANTA FE TO RESUME FIRST-CLASS TRAINS FROM SAN DIEGO TO BAY CITY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—As soon as sufficient equipment can be obtained, the Santa Fe Railroad Company is to restore its through service between San Diego and San Francisco, with the return of the first-class trains known as the "Saint" and the "Angel," James B. Duffy, assistant general traffic agent of the system, announced today. A timetable readjusting the company's service in the San Joaquin Valley is being prepared, also, Duffy announced.

On November 14 the company is to add a new transcontinental train to its schedule to be known as the "San Francisco Limited," which it is expected will make the run between Oakland and Chicago in three days.

Reports that the company is to withdraw its passenger service from the Oakland Mole and resume it at Ferry Point, Richmond, were denied by Duffy.

DEMOCRATS GIVE UP ALL HOPE.

MUST CARRY WEST.

It is admitted by the Democratic chieftains that to win at all Cox must repeat the feat of Wilson in carrying Ohio and the Far West. All hope of carrying New York, New England and New Jersey is gone. There is more confidence of carrying Indiana than Ohio for Cox and in the Far West Democratic hopes have no tangible basis save in Montana, Utah, Nevada and Colorado. That indicates how much surprise there would be at Democratic headquarters if Cox should carry enough States from Ohio westward to win.

By electing a Democratic Senate or holding the Republicans to a bare majority the Democrats could block the Harding peace program and there is every evidence that the Democratic campaign is now centered on this effort. The Democrats are fighting hard to save Senators Smith in Maryland, Beckham in Kentucky, Nugent in Idaho, Henderson in Nevada, Phelan in California and Smith in Arizona and to defeat Moses in New Hampshire, Brandegee in Connecticut, Watson in Indiana, Spencer in Missouri and Smoot in Utah.

THREE IN DANGER.

Moses and Brandegee in my opinion will win while Watson, Spencer and Smoot are in danger. The Republicans, however, probably will gain Senate seats in California, Colorado and South Dakota while they have excellent chances in Kentucky, Idaho and Arizona. The Republicans have considerably less hope of defeating Smith in Maryland and Henderson in Nevada.

I happen to know that the Democratic managers entertain no illusions as to the prospect of defeating Senator Cummins in Iowa and they are not counting even on the Republican split in Wisconsin putting Reinsch over. The Democrats believe either Lenroot or Thompson will be elected. If Harding should carry Indiana by a comparatively large plurality Watson will win, otherwise he is likely to lose by a nose.

WHEAT PRICES JUMP BECAUSE OF "STRIKE."

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Wheat prices made a sudden ascent today, and trade authorities ascribed as one of the reasons a falling off in offerings from the southwest, apparently due to the "farmers' strike." An extreme advance of 10¾ cents a bushel took place, December delivery touching $2.10¼ as against $1.99¼ to $1.99¾ at yesterday's finish.

The strike, or stoppage of selling by farmers was announced some time ago by officials of the United States Wheat Growers' Association as against continued cutting down of prices until it was contended the financial returns to growers were below the cost of production. Yesterday was the day set for the strike to begin, but no market effects were noticeable until today.

The exceptional strength which developed was encouraged to a considerable extent also by the fact that export buying on a large scale was noted. It was estimated that exporters had purchased today 1,250,000 bushels of American wheat and that Great Britain and France were buying in India where, of late, famine has been reported.

FOR PROTECTION OF INDUSTRIES.

Harding Reiterates Belief in Tariff Measure.

Declares American Producers Facing Difficulties.

Difference Between Costs Must be Equalized.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MARION (O.) Oct. 26.—Reiterating his belief in a protective tariff policy, Senator Harding declared in a telegram made public here today that as soon as the Republicans were returned to power they would inaugurate a prompt return to the American system of protection for American industry.

The telegram, in reply to one from Paul A. Ewert of Joplin, Mo., related particularly to the zinc industry, but pointed out that along with the slump in zinc prices had come similar recessions in many other lines of production, including notably agricultural production. The Senator's message said:

APPROACHING DISASTER.

"Under the Democratic tariff law of 1913, the country was already approaching industrial disaster, when the World War began. The foreign demand was so great, and prices were so unimportant, that everything we could produce was promptly taken by the warring nations. So the disaster was postponed.

"But with the end of the war the foreign demand, not only for zinc, but for a great number of other products, whose protection had been removed, immediately fell off.

"With demand reduced and with foreign competition desperately seeking our unprotected markets, we have suddenly found ourselves at the beginning of an era in which, unless the American policy of protection is resumed, we are bound to become more and more the dumping ground for the products of all the world.

"Produced by cheaper labor, they must inevitably drive our own products out of our own markets, compel the suspension of production at home, and bring idleness and suffering, not merely to the thousands of workers in a particular industry, but to the millions of workers in hundreds of industries.

HARDSHIP TO FARMERS.

"Along with this disaster to the mining and industrial interests has come a similar disaster to American agriculture. The recent slump in prices of agricultural products has brought a great hardship to American agriculture. Vast crops were raised under conditions which made them extremely costly, and now that the farmers have them in hand, they find that prices have fallen so suddenly and rapidly that enormous losses must be sustained.

"When the Republican party is restored to control of the government after March 4 next, there will be a prompt return to the American system of protection for American industry. That policy has been to equalize the cost of production at home and abroad. As to zinc, it is my recollection that the Republican members of the Senate subcommittee on finance, Senators Watson and Curtis, voted to report favorably the tariff bill desired by the American zinc producers providing for a tariff of 2 cents per pound on the metallic contents of imported zinc ores. But the Democratic members voted against it. When I am President, if such a measure is again urged, and if it is found to comply with the Republican formula of imposing sufficient tariff to measure the difference between cost of production at home and abroad, I shall certainly give my support to it."

BOURGEOIS INTERVIEW.

The Senator also informally discussed a recent interview with Leon Bourgeois, president of the League Council. The latter's views, he said, furnished further evidence that the only safe way for the United States was "to remain outside until we may unite upon a plan for an association of nations that shall mean the same to everybody."

The Senator's final campaign trip will be made by easy stages, and unless present plans are changed will include but four speeches.

Leaving here after noon tomorrow he will speak at night at Cleveland, and on the three remaining nights of the week will address meetings in Akron, Cincinnati and Columbus. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights will be spent at hotels and he will return to Marion after the Saturday night speech in the State capital.

Today Senator Harding took it easy, seeing few callers and clearing away many odds and ends of office work. His voice, which had been affected by a slight cold, showed improvement and he said he was feeling in tiptop condition for the home stretch of the campaign.

During the afternoon a glee club from Troy, O., marched to the front porch and serenaded the nominee and Mrs. Harding with political songs. The Senator made a short speech, thanking them for the visit and for their support in the campaign.

LONG ISLAND HOME LEASED BY PERSHING.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Gen. Pershing will become a resident of Long Island on November 1, it was learned last night when he leased the picturesque North Shore residence of John M. Demarest. The official explanation is that the general has been ill and needs a long rest in a quiet, secluded spot and that he selected Roslyn.

Roslyn is discussing a rumor that Gen. Pershing was going to be married and that he would bring his bride to the house overlooking Hempstead Harbor and Long Island Sound beyond.

Bear Grass Used for Fiber.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

TAHOKA (Tex.) Oct. 26.—Bear grass, a wild plant that grows profusely upon millions of acres of land in Western Texas and Eastern New Mexico, is coming into big demand for its fiber. Many shipments of the leaves have also been made to paper mills. It is stated that a high grade of paper may be made from its pulp. It is for its fiber that bear grass is now being harvested. On some of the ranches as much as two to three tons of the plants may be obtained from a single acre of land.

PAUL OFFERED THRONE.

Funeral of King Alexander of Greece to be Held on Friday.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ATHENS, Oct. 26.—The funeral of King Alexander will take place Friday afternoon. The Chamber of Deputies will be convened Thursday. The Cabinet assembled immediately after the death of the King last evening and drew up a message to the people, expressing the grief felt at the monarch's death and adding:

"In conformity with the constitutional order of succession, the younger brother of King Alexander, Prince Paul, is called to succeed him. However, in view of his absence and the relations existing between the nation and the house of ex-King Constantine, the government has decided, in conformity with the constitution, to convoke the chamber just adjourned to proceed to the election of a regent until the arrival of the new King."

Many difficulties regarding succession to the Greek throne may result from the death of King Alexander, which occurred last night. The throne has been offered to Prince Paul, third son of former King Constantine, but as a condition King Constantine must formally abdicate and Prince George, older brother of Prince Paul, must renounce his rights.

It is probable that King Constantine will at first refuse to meet these conditions, but it is understood Premier Venizelos will produce arguments of some importance.

Constantine's financial status is well known and it is thought the understanding is that the Premier will agree to restore the former King's suppressed pension if the above terms are accepted.

Only in the event of Constantine's persistent refusal would there be a question of the establishment of a republic, but it is known Premier Venizelos is of the opinion that Greece is not ripe for that form of government.

Admiral P. Goundouriotis, former Minister of Marine, is believed to be the government official most favored for the appointment as Regent of Greece, to hold office until the successor of King Alexander ascends the throne. He was formerly a member of the Saloniki government and is known to be friendly to the Entente.

CONSTANTINE HEARS NEWS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LUCERNE (Switzerland) Oct. 26. Former King Constantine of Greece burst into tears today upon learning of the death of his second son, King Alexander of Greece, news of which was received last night, although it was withheld from the deposed monarch until this morning.

The former King has not seen his son in several years.

Prince Paul was noncommittal when asked recently by a newspaper correspondent whether he would accept the Greek throne in the event of the death of his brother, then still living.

"I will leave the matter in the hands of my father," he replied.

It is understood the marriage of Prince George, eldest son of former King Constantine, to Princess Elizabeth of Rumania has been postponed.

LOGICAL SUCCESSOR.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Oct. 26.—At the French Foreign Office it was said today that the French government is quite in agreement with the policy of Premier Venizelos in offering the Greek throne to Prince Paul, as he is the logical as well as the dynastic successor to the late King Alexander, owing to the elimination of former King Constantine and Prince George, who also is the Duke of Sparta, from the succession.

HECKLER RUNS AMUCK AT McADOO MEETING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Oct. 26.—Four policemen were needed to subdue and arrest a heckler who ran amuck at William G. McAdoo's mass meeting in a tent here this noon. The former Secretary of the Treasury was in the midst of his speech in favor of the League of Nations and Cox. Suddenly the heckler yelled, "Liar!" and started for Mr. McAdoo. Policemen grabbed him.

Mr. McAdoo smiled. "Don't put an ignorant man out; I want to talk to him," he said.

But the heckler became so violent that the police, getting reinforcements, dragged him out. He was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace. He gave his name as Thomas Holden, 936 North Michigan avenue.

During the disturbance an onlooker yelled that the man had a bomb and proceeded to search the heckler. The "bomb" proved to be a roll of socks.

While here Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo and their party were the guests at the Hotel Maryland of Maj. J. B. Coulston, president and general manager of the California Hotel Company.

Mr. McAdoo said he would like to come here to spend the winter, but his plans will prevent it, this season. He said his favorite "air castle" is a bungalow in California. A year ago he bought property at Santa Barbara, but has not built upon it yet.

SHORTRIDGE MEETING IN BAY CITY BIG ONE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Before the largest audience gathered here during the campaign, Samuel M. Shortridge, Republican Senatorial candidate, set forth tonight his stand on the vital issues of the campaign. The throng that packed Dreamland Rink auditorium to the doors cheered time after time as Shortridge made pleas for the support of the Republican party's platform of protecting California, fostering California industries and agriculture and securing speedy relief for the State from the menace of Asiatic immigration.

The enthusiasm manifested at tonight's meeting and at a series of district meetings addressed by Shortridge today and yesterday was so great that betting here is in favor of Shortridge carrying the city by heavy totals.

GERMANS SEEK DYE MONOPOLY.

Decree Aims at Control of Coal Tar Industry.

Distribution Placed in Hands of New Union.

Producers Must Turn Over Output to Refineries.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The text of a German decree practically socializing the production of coal tar in that country was received tonight in official advices. Indications that Germany was planning for an attempt to regain her prewar supremacy in dyestuffs was seen in the decree by chemical experts of the government.

Complete control of the distribution of raw materials for refining coal tar is given by the decree to a union representing all branches of the industry. Employers and employees in the production, refining, trade and distributing branches of the industry are represented in numbers and the great Ministry of Economics is empowered to protest against such distributions as seem contrary to public welfare.

Regulation of the coal-tar trade and economic questions concerning crude coal tar are placed under the jurisdiction of the union, as well as the supervision of exports and imports and price fixing. Reduction of the production of raw products for the purpose of maintaining high prices in Germany is strictly forbidden. Producers of crude coal tar are required to turn over the entire amount of their output direct to refineries, and contracts in violation of this provision are declared null. Employment of crude tar other than under the terms of the decree is made punishable by a fine of not more than 100,000 marks and five years' imprisonment.

Dyes and chemicals were the mainstays of Germany's foreign trade before the war, it was pointed out here, and if Germany hopes to recover her pre-war commercial position in the world, the major branches of the industry must be built up as fairly as possible. Other government officials, however, familiar with Germany's economic problems, minimized the possibility that she could again lead the world in the manufacture of dyes. Because of the coal deliveries Germany must make under reparation awards, it was said, the government probably was trying to regain full control of connected industries.

Hunger-Striking is Useless, Says Miss Pankhurst.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Sylvia Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, in a letter to Nikolai Lenine, the Bolshevik Premier, which now is in the hands of the government, is said to have made this interesting comment:

"I expect six months' imprisonment. I have considered the hunger strike, but I am afraid that weapon has been destroyed since the government is letting the Irish hunger strikers die."

Miss Pankhurst was arrested last week charged with publishing seditious literature. She was admitted to bail pending trial. Several years ago Miss Pankhurst was among the first of alleged offenders against British law and order who went on hunger strikes and thus obtained their release.

MURDER VERDICT FOR AUTOMOBILE KILLING.

WHISKY SMUGGLING SUSPECT WHOSE MACHINE CRUSHED OFFICER CONVICTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 26.—The jury in the case of George E. Brown, colored, accused of having run down with his automobile and killed Immigration Inspector Alphonse G. Bernard near Campo on the night of July 11, returned a verdict late today of guilty of murder in the second degree. Sentence will be pronounced Thursday.

It was alleged that Brown was smuggling whisky across the Mexican border. His two attorneys, both colored, received warm compliments from the prosecutor for their handling of the case. One of the points of their argument was that a sane man would have preferred to be arrested for smuggling to being charged with killing a man, and they declared that Brown certainly had not meant to strike the officer.

It was reported that an appeal would be taken.

COX STICKS TO LEAGUE ISSUE.

Makes Special Plea for Senators Favoring Pact.

Says Election Will be Positive Mandate.

Asks People Not to Tie His Hands in Election.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 26.—Special pleas for election of Senatorial candidates favoring the League of Nations were made by Gov. Cox today in a tri-State tour touching West Virginia and Kentucky and closing tonight with an address here, where he began his career as a newspaper reporter twenty-five years ago.

The candidate, reiterating that he would construe his election—in which he expressed utmost confidence—as "a positive mandate" for American entrance into the League, asked support for Democratic candidates here in Ohio and in Kentucky also, who, he said, stood "four square" upon the League issue.

"Don't tie my hands by electing a hostile Senator," he urged, reiterating statements, made in his formal announcement, yesterday, that he believed he would reach an agreement with the Senate regarding the League.

NOT CONCERNED IN WORDS.

"I have found that America is not so much concerned in the words we use in keeping our pledge," said the Governor, "as it is that the meaning be clear and that the only possible step now available be taken to keep wars from being in the future."

Gov. Cox also continued his attack upon Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, as a conspirator against the League by virtue of the Senator's signature to the "round robin." "I think you will agree," said the Governor, "that a conspiracy was formed in the Senate to strangle the League of Nations to death.

"Now we are asked to upset the conspiracy and the Senatorial crowd proposes, as the official upsetter, a member of the conspirators himself. When a case is tried in court the man under charge never sits in the judge's chair and he never sits in the jury box, and the American people, in their desire to overturn this base conspiracy, are not going to designate one of the conspirators himself to carry out the job."

SELF-PRESERVATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Speaking at a dinner and three political rallies in Brooklyn tonight, Franklin D. Roosevelt declared the United States ought, "as a mere matter of self-preservation," to take part in the attempts which are being made to stabilize and improve world finance through the League of Nations."

"I have been tremendously impressed," he said, "by the great swing of sentiment toward Gov. Cox by men and women in New York who have been or are interested in commercial transactions connected with foreign trade. All the world realizes that the financial stability of the great majority of nations has been severely shaken and that even now it is in a dangerous condition. It still is possible wholly to prevent a crash, but at the same time, unless co-operative action is taken, the danger will increase, rather than diminish.

"Of course, if a crash in foreign parts should occur, the United States would be seriously affected. . . . If for no other reason than a selfish one, the United States must immediately resume her place at the table with other nations, in order that economic and financial difficulties resulting from the war may be straightened out and placed in a safe position. It is, of course, reasonable to add that, if a collapse occurs because of the United States not taking part in world affairs, it is not merely Americans who are connected with foreign commerce who will suffer—every other American will feel the blow indirectly."

CLOSE TO DEATH TWICE IN ONE DAY.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) Oct. 26.—Twice in one day R. N. Fraley of Morgan county almost met death and he is suing for $10,500. He was injured in Butler county, where he was drilling an oil well, and while being conveyed to a hospital here the ambulance he was riding in was struck by a street car, injuring him still more seriously.

He asks $5250 from the owner of the oil well and the same amount from the traction company.

BABY BOY FOR SALE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HOLLAND (Mich.) Oct. 26.—A baby boy of 7 months was offered for sale at a rummage sale being held by a woman's club. A woman whose name was not learned brought the boy to the sale. It had been deserted by its parents and she asked to have it disposed of at the sale.

ELINOR GLYN ADMITS MUCH.

For Instance, Woman Guides Course of Courtship.

And She Doesn't Appreciate Him When Caught.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Elinor Glyn admits a woman guides the course of courtship. She admits that woman is a natural intriguer who sets the trap and waits, concealed in an ambush of blushes, until mere man steps into the meshes.

She admits that it is possible to be happy though married—if a woman will.

And so on.

Mrs. Glyn has but just arrived in New York and was found most comfortably disposed at her hotel.

Mrs. Glyn gasped not a single gasp at the audacity of the man in this new era of woman's emancipation.

COALS OF FIRE.

"They are not only careful not to run too fast," was her crisp comment, "which condition holds good in many cases but also at times it is the woman who does the chasing."

Not content with that Mrs. Glyn heaps a few more coals on heads of the women of America for she says:

"It is my opinion that the American man is not fully appreciated. I acknowledge that Mr. George has a very complete understanding of woman but I flatter myself that I know man equally well. It is my conviction that the American man has enormous potentialities and that the American woman does not realize that fact."

WOULD REVIVE CHAPERON.

To a limited extent Mrs. Glyn approves the revival of that rapidly disappearing institution of love and courtship, the chaperon. Here are the conditions:

"Unless the young people have sense enough to avoid physical emotions such as holding hands and kissing it makes it much easier for them to have a chaperon present.

"I have found that the best system of courtship, and the one most productive to marital happiness is that found in high society in Spain. There a man admires a girl and he dances with her, walks with her and in many other ways enjoys her company, but her mother is always near. Not too close, but always near enough to keep the young couple in sight.

NO GREAT CHANGE.

"This goes along for possibly a year, during which time they have plenty of opportunity of getting acquainted with each other's mind. When each is absolutely sure of the other, the young man sends a bracelet, the engagement symbol and the family consenting, the couple are engaged."

"There has been no great change in love in 6000 years," Mrs. Glyn continued. "Of course, there was the romantic era during the Victorian period and that has changed somewhat lately due to the war and the change in the status of women. But essentially it is the same.

"Woman is valued when she is a bunch of grapes with the bloom untouched. I think that all caresses should be absolutely sacred. There is nothing so vulgar as promiscuous caressing."

MURDERS WIDOW, ENDS LIFE; BODIES BURNED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HARBOR SPRINGS (Mich.) Oct. 26.—John Harada went to the farm of Mrs. Margaret Kennedy, a widow, seven miles north of here, ordered her 6-year-old daughter out of the house, shot Mrs. Kennedy and burned the house.

He then set fire to the barn, put a bullet into his own body and cremated himself and his victim. They had quarreled over a love affair. The little girl escaped from the burning barn and told the neighbors.

SISTERS BRIDES OF TWINS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CORYDON (Ind.) Oct. 26.—A double wedding in which sisters became the brides of twins took place here. Elmer O. Schweinhart and Josephine Hall and Emery L. Schweinhart and Elizabeth C. Hall were married.

This Eleven Piece Dining Suite Only $495

—Louis XVI Period adaptation in the new brown mahogany finish consisting of buffet, china closet, side table, extension table, 6 chairs and arm chair. The complete suite of eleven pieces is a very special value at $495.00.

The Dining Table

—The new style dining table with oblong 45x60-inch top can be extended to 8 feet in length when occasion requires. When fully extended it is just as substantial as when it is used without extra leaves.

The Chairs

—The six chairs and arm chair match the other pieces of this suite in design and are well constructed of excellent materials. The full box, slip seats are softly padded and upholstered in handsome tapestry of excellent wearing quality.

The Buffet

—Note the graceful proportions of this indispensable piece of dining furniture. It is 60 inches wide and has a convenient arrangement of drawers and cupboards at sufficient height from the floor to make stooping unnecessary. The cabinet work is of a superior order.

China Closet and Side Table

—These pieces, so necessary to the proper equipment of a modern dining-room, are in keeping with the rest of this suite in that they represent a quality of construction and finish only to be found in dining furniture of the better sort. Both are correctly proportioned and make complete a dining suite of unusual charm.

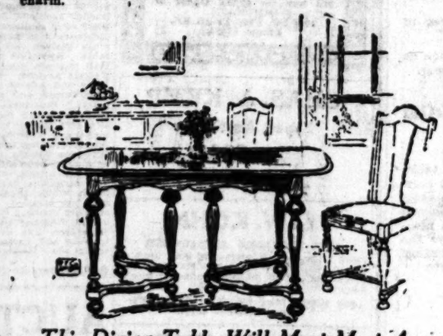
—This table is all that you infer it to be from a glance at the above illustration.

—We withhold no information it is possible to give concerning its size and other details but an adequate idea of its value can only be obtained by seeing it, as the illustration cannot convey beauty of finish and grain of wood.

—It is larger than the average living-room requires, having a top 28x48 inches, yet costs but little more than many smaller, inferior tables. The finish is brown mahogany hand-rubbed, giving a dull satin effect that is very desirable. Special value at $38.75.



This Dining Table Will Meet Most Any Requirement—Special at $78.50

—This table is nice enough in style, finish and construction for use in the finest modern home, yet under our low overhead system of pricing it comes to you at very little more than a much more ordinary table would cost.

MRS. THOMAS' WORD TO WOMEN

Tells of the Great Good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did For Her.

Morrice, Mich.—"About a year after my second baby was born I suffered with dizziness every morning so that I could hardly get around. I had heard from other women about your medicine and had read letters about it, so my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which I took according to directions and in a short time I was entirely relieved. I also took the Vegetable Compound before my last baby came and am thankful to say that it relieved my suffering very much and I shall never be without it at such times. I have told others of its great worth and shall keep on telling it."—Mrs. Ed. Thomas, Box 194, Morrice, Mich.

Women should not continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Soviet Bureau in New York Confirms Statement.

Local Members of Syndicate Explain Proposition.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Secretary Colby announced today that Commissioner Young at Riga had informed the State Department that Washington Vanderlip, who recently obtained concessions in Siberia, was reported to have told Nikolai Lenine, Russian Bolshevik Premier, that he represented Senator Harding, the Republican Presidential candidate.

The commissioner's dispatch, dated October 20, said Lenine had informed H. G. Wells, a British writer, that Vanderlip had made certain proposals to the soviet government at Moscow looking to the recognition of the Bolshevik government by the United States.

DEPARTMENT'S STATEMENT.

The announcement issued by the State Department was as follows:

"Regarding the published report from London that Washington Vanderlip of California had concluded an arrangement with the Russian soviet government for a large concession in Northeastern Siberia, the only dispatch bearing directly on the subject received by the State Department was one received October 20 from the commissioner for the Baltic provinces at Riga. It states that Lenine had informed H. G. Wells that Vanderlip, the American then at Moscow, claimed to represent Senator Harding, and had made certain proposals regarding the recognition of the Bolshevik government. The dispatch further stated that Vanderlip is apparently endeavoring to obtain coal concessions in Kamchatka."

In making public the statement, Secretary Colby said:

"The Wells referred to in the dispatch is undoubtedly Mr. H. G. Wells, the British writer, who has lately returned to England from Russia, which I understand he visited to obtain first-hand impressions of conditions in Russia. The Vanderlip referred to in the dispatch is presumably Mr. Washington D. Vanderlip, to whom reference is made in the press dispatches of today from London and Los Angeles. These press reports lend confirmation to the object of Mr. Vanderlip's activities as revealed in the department's official dispatch, and speak at length of important and extensive concessions which he claims to have received from the soviet government.

COMES FROM OFFICIAL.

"The department has no information beyond that contained in the dispatch. I might say, however, that it comes without qualification from an official of the department in whom we place much de[illegible] He is Mr. Evan E. Young, our commissioner at Riga, and is charged with the duty of reporting to the department significant facts that come to his knowledge. The report that Mr. Vanderlip has made proposals looking to the recognition of the soviet government, and is apparently bargaining thereon for valuable concessions, makes it proper for me to state, by way of warning, that, as the government of the United States has never recognized the Bolshevik regime, American business men and investors should bear in mind that any concessions from the Bolshevik authorities would have no certainty of recognition by future Russian governments.

"It furthermore would be most regrettable if any confusion should arise in the minds of the soviet authorities as to the attitude of this government on the question of political recognition. This attitude has been stated in unmistakable terms.

"The receipt, however, of an official dispatch conveying the intelligence that proposals looking to recognition have been made, even if irresponsibly, makes it important that an opportunity should be afforded to the numerous body of men reported from Los Angeles to be associated with Mr. Vanderlip, but whose names are not published, to define their relation to him, if any exists."

SIBERIAN CONCESSIONS.

Dispatches from London yesterday said that Vanderlip had concluded an extensive arrangement with the Russian soviet authorities by which an organization of western American financeries acquired a sixty-year lease on a vast tract in Northern Siberia, opposite Alaska, with exclusive rights to develop coal, oil and fisheries.

Commissioner Young's dispatch stated that Vanderlip also was negotiating for concessions about Kamchatka, Siberia.

Earlier in the day State Department officials on the basis of the London dispatches said that since the United States had not recognized the Bolshevik government no contract entered into by its officers would be regarded by this government as binding.

It was pointed out that the department's announced attitude toward concessions granted by the Bolshevik authorities was first signed April 26, 1919, in a warning to American business men and repeated July 27, 1920.

DENIAL BY HARDING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MARION (O.) Oct. 26.—Direct denial was made by Senator Harding today of reports reaching the State Department that a Washington Vanderlip was acting as his agent in Russia.

"I have never heard of Mr. Vanderlip," said the Senator. "He is not my agent, and I have no agent. I know absolutely nothing about any such matter as is discussed in these dispatches and have no interest in it whatever."

CONFIRM REPORT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—A cable message received today at the Russian soviet government bureau here confirmed the report that Washington D. Vanderlip of California, representing a syndicate of Pacific Coast capitalists, had concluded an arrangement with the Russian soviet government for the development of the natural resources of Northwestern Siberia. The message, signed by "George Tchitcherin, Commissar for Foreign Affairs at Moscow," was addressed to Ludwig C. A. K Martens, representative of the soviet government in America.

PURELY COMMERCIAL.

It was authoritatively stated here on behalf of the syndicate represented by Washington D. Vanderlip, now in Copenhagen, that Vanderlip represents purely personal business interests here and elsewhere in the West. It was said that Vanderlip and those he represents have no connection, either personal or political, with Senator Harding, and that their interest in the Siberian venture is a purely commercial enterprise without political significance.

MAY STILL IMPORT LIQUOR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OTTAWA, Ont. 26.—Importation of liquor will be possible for sixty days in the provinces of Alberta, Manitoba, Nova Scotia and Saskatchewan, which voted dry in a general plebiscite yesterday. The majority for bone-dry prohibition in Manitoba, will probably reach 15,000, although the city of Winnipeg turned in a wet majority of more than 6000.

WILSON CRITICISED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Congress was urged today by the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Church to buy up supplies of intoxicating liquors held in bonded warehouses. The holdings should be assembled in a smaller number of warehouses, the board's recommendation said, and after a sufficient supply for legitimate uses had been provided, the balance should be rendered unfit for beverage, and sold for industrial purposes.

Other resolutions asked the appropriation of more money to enforce Federal prohibition, and for government action to restrict the passage of American citizens between California and the immoral resorts of Tijuana, Mex.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary to the board, said that President Wilson's unfortunate blunder in taking the wet side of the prohibition controversy had done more than any other one thing to wreck his influence in America.

"He postponed war-time prohibition two years," Dr. Wilson added, "and then when it was about to go into effect, he intervened in behalf of the beer trade."

SEATTLE, Oct. 26.—Records of the Seattle Port Commission show no purchase of Seattle water-front property by the Russian government under the late Czar or any pending negotiations for the acquirer of a lease on such property by an American syndicate headed by Washington D. Vanderlip which has secured a sixty-year lease for development of the resources of Northern Siberia, according to George F. Nicholson, port commissioner.

DOHENY EXPLAINS LEASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Relative to the lease secured by Mr. Vanderlip on the Siberian territory, Edward L. Doheny, president of the Mexican Petroleum Company, today said that he helped finance Mr. Vanderlip two years ago in his explorations for oil in Siberia. Some of the others interested, he said, were: F. W. Braun, a druggist of Los Angeles; William Stewart, president of the Union Oil Company of California; Max Whittier, a California oil man; T. E. Gibbon, a lawyer and real estate man in California; J. F. Sartori, Leo Phillips and Harry Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times.

SAVE PRISONER FROM MOB.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WATSONVILLE, Oct. 26.—Fred Peano, arrested here today in connection with the killing of Patrolman John Whalen last night, was rushed to Santa Cruz late today in an automobile after a crowd had surrounded the city jail and voiced threats against him.

TWO EXPLOSIONS MAKE SPANISH CITY DARK.

[BY GIRLS AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

ZARAGOZA (Spain) Oct. 26.—Ten workmen were injured and much material damage caused by two explosions tonight, one in the gas works and the other in the electric power plant, which resulted in a great fire. The city was plunged into darkness and the population was considerably alarmed.

The authorities have taken precautions to prevent the syndicalists from creating disorders under cover of darkness, but thus far all has been quiet.

LAST CHAPTER OF THE DANSEY CASE WRITTEN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MAY'S LANDING (N. J.) Oct. 26. The last chapter in the Dansey case was probably written today when Charles S. White and Mrs. Edith Jones, housekeeper for White's father, were discharged from custody.

They had been under bail for a year in connection with the disappearance of Billy Dansey, a 4-year-old boy, whose body was later found in a swamp. Their release follows the failure of a grand jury to find indictments against them.

BUILDING TRUST RING CHARGED WITH GRAFT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Atty.-Gen. Newton tonight was designated by Gov. Smith to supersede Dist.-Atty. Swann as prosecuting officer to present to the grand jury evidence brought out at the investigation of the alleged building trust. The services of the Attorney-General has been requested by the joint legislative committee on housing, which is conducting the inquiry.

Gov. Smith also announced that in the public interest he would decline to continue the extraordinary grand jury. He declared that in his opinion another extraordinary grand jury should be impaneled immediately to devote all its time to the work.

Charges of graft were made today to Leonard Wallstein, associate counsel for the Lockwood committee, by William Zaranko, walking delegate of the House-wreckers' Union. "Against mysterious collectors of the Building Trades ring," Zaranko alleged that these collectors were exacting $10 a week from members of his union whose total weekly pay was $44. He estimated that 700 men were paying this weekly toll.

When asked about the charges Mr. Wallstein declined to comment upon them other than to say Zaranko had told his story. It is understood the charges will be investigated by the Lockwood committee when it resumes hearings on Thursday.

The Sun Drug Co. says—

"Thank You!"

TO OUR PATRONS
and Stockholders.

At the completion of the nineteenth year of THE SUN DRUG CO.'S career, we are gratified to be able to report to our many stockholders and patrons that this "all Southern California" organization is standing more securely than ever upon the permanent foundation of success.

We also desire to render thanks for the liberal patronage given "THE SUN" stores last week during our "19th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION," which proved to be the greatest event of its kind in our history.

During the past twelve months many milestones have been erected on the path of progress by "YOUR HOME DRUGGIST." The year's growth may be judged by these outstanding facts:

-Our warehouse space has increased 150%.
-Our total volume of business has increased 170%.
-Our manufacturing area has increased 120%.
-Our number of employees has increased 109%.
-The number of stores operated has increased from 14 to 22 (3 of which are now in course of construction).
-The number of cities served has increased from three to five.
-The street frontage occupied by "SUN" stores has increased from 1458 feet to 2320 feet.

This splendid development has been accorded us because of our patrons' faith in us. We are sincerely grateful for this loyalty, without which our steady growth would be impossible.

In thanking the people of Southern California for their generous patronage, we would say that the harmonious relations which exist between the public and ourselves spurs us on to greater achievements and a fuller determination to give a greater measure of helpful service in the future.

Sincerely yours,

THE SUN DRUG CO.,

Make Your Own Gray Hair Remedy

Mrs. A. Dixon, a well-known Brooklyn trained nurse, made the following statement regarding gray hair: "Streaked, faded or gray hair can be quickly turned black, brown or light brown, by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in 2 oz. of distilled or rain water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for mixing and use and a gold bond guarantee come in each box. One box will last you for months.

"It is safe, it does not rub off, is not sticky or gummy, and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."—[Advertisement.

ANSWERS CHURCH COUNCIL CLAIM

Japanese Exclusion League Denies Charges.

Movement Against Nipponese Not Political.

Based on Startling Facts Proved by Investigation.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26.—To the statement, October 25, of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, deploring agitation and hasty action in the matter of Japanese immigration, the Japanese Exclusion League of California, through the chairman of its executive committee, the Hon. J. S. Chambers, has issued an answer.

It is pointed out therein that the movement in California, far from being a vote-catching propaganda of politicians appealing to race prejudice and mob feeling is really based on incontrovertible and startling facts, supported by official State investigation, under legislative direction, and fully corroborated in hearings of the House Committee on Immigration held on the Pacific Coast in July and August of this year.

Further the statement says:

INCLUDES LEADING MEN.

"The exclusion league is directed by prominent executives, officially delegated for the purpose, of such organizations as the American Legion, Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West, State Federation of Women's Clubs, State Federation of Labor, Knights of Pythias, Order of Moose, Order of Foresters, and by business and professional men of State-wide reputation. Politicians have supported the movement because the demand is practically unanimous, and its justice beyond question. Otherwise Senator Harding and Gov. Cox, Presidential candidates, could not afford to take the stand they have.

"Certain aspects of the problem are particularly of State concern, and exclusively of State jurisdiction. In these matters, California is scrupulously guarding treaty and vested rights of the Japanese, but declining to accord rights to them not accorded to Americans in Japan, and which, if continued here, would certainly create a race problem, with the friction and trouble which both countries wish to avoid.

Widow of Man Killed by Officers Granted Court Order.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 26.—Mrs. Lena Hedderly, widow of Robert W. Hedderly, who was fatally shot when five Federal and city police officers attempted to arrest him September 16, was given permission by Judge Tazewell of the probate department of the Circuit Court today to institute suit against the five officers for $7500 damages for the death of her husband.

The officers were recently indicted by the Multnomah county grand jury on charges of involuntary manslaughter, growing out of the killing of Hedderly.

ABSOLUTE POWER IS SOUGHT BY HUERTA.

WANTS AUTHORITY TO HANDLE ALL QUESTIONS BETWEEN CAPITAL AND LABOR.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Provisional President De la Huerta of Mexico, has asked Congress to give him absolute authority to handle questions between capital and labor in the republic, according to advices from Mexico City today.

In the bill submitted by De la Huerta, he asks for permission "to issue all regulations necessary for the solution of any conflicts between capital and labor."

It is noted that in the text of the bill submitted by De la Huerta he puts labor first in the phrase" labor and capital," and this is regarded as significant by observers in Mexico, who have criticised the Provisional President for his alleged hostility to capital. This request immediately followed the action of the House of Deputies "in voting unanimously to revoke the extraordinary powers in the Department Finance, granted the chief executive by Congress under direction of the late President Carranza.

DENIES BOOTLEGGERS HOLD UP FREIGHTS.

NO GUARDS PROTECTING CARS, IS STATEMENT OF SPOKANE RAILWAY OFFICIAL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) Oct. 26.—Denial that whisky runners from across the Canadian line are interrupting movement of freight over the Spokane International Railway or that armed guards have been sent to protect freight cars from their attacks was made here today by E. L. Cardie, traffic manager of the road. He said that two men had been sent to Eastport to help inspect freight cars.

Mr. Cardie branded as false a purported statement of W. L. Stauffer, chief special agent of the road, declaring that large importations of liquor were being made across the border in freight cars of the company.

Mr. Cardie declared that, while no doubt some small amount of liquor was being brought into the State in spite of the company's efforts to prevent it, movement of freight was not being hampered and that no serious trouble with bootleggers had been experienced.

BANDITS STEAL ALCOHOL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Working in a dense fog, seven liquor bandits raided the chemical laboratory of a drug company almost in the heart of downtown Chicago today and, after lining up the employees under cover of their guns, loaded twenty-five barrels of alcohol, valued at $1000 a barrel, in a motor truck and drove away.

After singing two songs, each asked for a pair of shoes, one exhibiting an advertisement which read: "These shoes will go for a song." They got the shoes.

ILLINOIS WOMAN HAS CANNED MUCH FRUIT.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MT. VERNON (Ill.) Oct. 26.—Mrs. J. Z. Beasot, of Boyd, Jefferson county, has canned this season, 2200 quarts of fruits and vegetables, and ten gallons of preserves and jellies. In addition to this labor, she did her own housework and personally cultivated the vegetables. She will can a quantity of sweet potatoes before closing her season's work.

COLBY DECLARES LEAGUE IS ISSUE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Declaring that Senator Harding had virtually been pushed out of bounds on the great issue of the League of Nations during the campaign, Secretary Colby, speaking here tonight at a Democratic rally, asserted this to be an extraordinary result.

The League issue, he said, is clearly the issue upon which the election will turn.

PROTECT ARMENIANS FROM TURK TROOPS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Withdrawal of the French forces from Cilicia is not expected immediately, Rear-Admiral Mark L. Bristol, who is on an official mission to Turkey, has informed Walter George Smith, president of the Armenia-America Society, in a cable message made public tonight by the society. Armenians in the district, however, are in danger, Admiral Bristol stated, and whole districts are being evacuated.

A large military force is necessary, said Admiral Bristol, to protect the Armenians in Cilicia from annihilation by the Turkish Nationalists, who have been conducting a campaign against French and Armenians since last February.

HARDING LEAGUE'S ONLY HOPE.

Taft Says Gov. Cox's Reply to Root Neither Formidable Nor Impressive; Declares Candidate Has Not Gone Beyond Letter of Democratic Convention.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

Mr. Cox's telegram to Mr. Root is neither formidable nor impressive. Mr. Root's statement to which Mr. Cox takes exception is entirely true in substance. Mr. Cox has never gone, in anything he has said, beyond the letter of the platform of the San Francisco convention, in which it was said that there was no objection to reservations which should interpret and not nullify the League, and which should clarify and make more definite the obligations of the United States.

Indeed, Mr. Wilson had said so and approved some innocuous reservations presented by Mr. Hitchcock in the Senate. Mr. Cox's present statement goes no further.

Mr. Cox has not said that he would consent to eliminate Article X or that he would consent to such a reservation as the majority of the Senate imposed on Article X. On the contrary he has defended Article X and both he and Mr. Wilson have made it, by every reasonable implication from their words, the sine qua non of the treaty.

It is Article X chiefly that made the question between the Senate and Mr. Wilson, that made the issue upon which the Democracy based its position at San Francisco and it could have been only this in respect to which Mr. Cox has said that he was "at one with Mr. Wilson."

Mr. Cox's assertion that under the League as it is, Congress must declare war before the United States can enter war, and that he is willing to have a reservation which shall declare that, does not in any way help to alter the position in which Mr. Root correctly puts him.

The point of the Senate objection to Article X is not that it takes away the necessity for Congressional action before war can be brought about, but that it imposes the moral and legal obligation upon Congress in certain situations to declare war, and that Congress cannot exercise its undoubted power to withhold the declaration of war is such a case without committing a breach of the obligation of the government under Article X.

Mr. Cox has nowhere said, and cannot say, in the face of Mr. Wilson's position or of the platform, or of his previous statements that he is willing to take out of Article X the legal and moral obligation that it contains which Congress cannot ignore without committing a breach of it. Nothing which Mr. Cox says about the Constitution and his willingness to have a reservation that shall require a constitutional construction of the obligations of the League affects this point at all.

The statement of the pro-League Republicans, headed by Mr. Root and Mr. Hoover, and Mr. Root's speech, have made it very clear to Republicans anxious for a League, that there is no hope for any League at all through the election of Mr. Cox; it only means the continuance of the futile deadlock between the executive and the Senate.

The only hope of any progress in the right direction is through Mr. Harding's becoming President. It is the consciousness of the wide influence among pro-League Republicans of these two statements of Mr. Root on the League which prompts Mr. Cox to send this truculent, but cloudy dispatch to Mr. Root, which is no more clarifying, effective or substantial than Mr. Cox's proposed reservations, and leaves the matter exactly where it was.

LONG BEACH SECTION FREE FROM SMALLPOX.

NO CASES THERE FOR MONTHS, SAYS HEALTH OFFICER OF COUNTY.

There is no smallpox in the city of Long Beach or in the outside districts, and has not been a case of that disease there for several months, according to a letter written by Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, county health officer, to the editor of the Long Beach Telegram.

In an article written by Dr. Pomeroy discussing the antivivisection amendment, and which was published by The Times on the 17th inst., a phrase occurred which has been misinterpreted by intending visitors to Long Beach to mean that smallpox is prevalent or epidemic there. It is in order to correct this impression, which has caused many inquiries to be made of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, that Dr. Pomeroy has written the following official letter:

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH,
Los Angeles county, California.
Oct. 25, 1920.

Mr. Frank C. Roberts,
Editor, Long Beach Telegram,
Long Beach, Cal.

Dear Sir: Owing to a misunderstanding of a phrase used in an article relative to the proposed health amendments published in The Los Angeles Times of October 17, will you please publish in your paper the following statement in order to correct this wrong impression.

In an article published in a recent issue of The Los Angeles Times I referred to smallpox in the city of Long Beach and vicinity during last winter and early this year. Certain people have gained the impression that smallpox existed in Long Beach city and the outside districts at the present time. This is not the case. I desire the public to know that Long Beach and the outside district of Long Beach township is free of smallpox at the present time, and has been for several months.

This statement is published in order to correct any erroneous impression that might have been gained from my recent article, especially by those who did not read the same carefully.

Very truly yours,
J. L. POMEROY, M. D.
County Health Officer.

ASK MODIFICATION OF WAR RESTRICTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The United Lutheran Church convention adopted today by a large majority a resolution of the Foreign Mission Board asking governments to remove or modify wartime restrictions on missionaries. The chief objection of opponents was that this was not "an opportune time" for the adoption of such a resolution.

While no government was named specifically in the resolution, the British government was mentioned frequently in the debate which preceded the vote.

It was stated on the floor of the convention that it was the intention to send copies of the resolution to the headquarters of the International Foreign Missionary organization in England, where they will be laid before the authorities of the various countries.

The convention indorsed a proposal for a world-wide conference of Lutherans. The meeting is expected to be held in the United States within the next two years.

EPISCOPAL HOUSE OF BISHOPS TO CONVENE.

WILL ACT ON RESIGNATION OF FORMER BISHOP KINSMAN WHO BECAME CATHOLIC.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—The house of bishops of the Episcopal church will meet here tomorrow to act on the resignation of former Bishop Frederick J. Kinsman of the diocese of Delaware, who gave up his bishopric last year and afterward entered the Roman Catholic church, and to nominate bishops for Honolulu and Haiti, and consider other proposed appointments.

The vacancy in Honolulu is occasioned by the resignation of Bishop Henry B. Restarik, who is leaving on account of ill health. The Haitian diocese will be a new appointment.

The house of bishops is expected to consider the selection of a bishop for Salina, Kan., in a missionary district that is under the jurisdiction of Bishop George A. Beecher, missionary bishop of Western Nebraska, and it is said may also appoint a coadjutor for Tokio.

IN HURRY TO FINANCE BIG POWER PLAN.

Edison Company Asks for Speed in Rate Case; Expects Rush for Money Soon.

Prompt action by the State Railroad Commission on its application for a change in rates was urged yesterday by the Southern California Edison Company, officials of which testified at a hearing before the commission September 15 and are now being cross-examined. It was predicted that after Tuesday's election many new securities issues will be put on the market and will create keen competition for available investment funds. The Edison company contemplates extensive financing and wants to be the early bird.

The cross-examinations will be resumed this morning in the offices of the commission in the Union League Building.

At the afternoon session of the hearing yesterday, H. H. Berry, an engineer of the Edison Company, was cross-examined. L. S. Ready, assistant chief engineer of the commission, conducted the examination and asked the majority of the questions, all of which were of a technical nature.

R. H. Ballard, general manager; D. M. Trout, assistant comptroller, and S. M. Kennedy, vice-president of the Edison company, will be called this morning.

A. M. Kemp, vice-president in charge of the finances of the company, was the principal witness at the morning session yesterday, which was held at the Chamber of Commerce Building. He testified that the finances of the company have been arranged to provide funds to carry on its construction program, and the only thing that is delaying the work is the Railroad Commission's decision in the case now at issue. The money markets are improving, he said, and with an assurance of fixed rates to provide reasonable interest and returns on investments, large amounts of securities can be sold.

RED CROSS ANNUAL.

Los Angeles Chapter Will Elect Board of Directors Today.

The annual meeting of the Los Angeles chapter, American Red Cross, will be held at the headquarters, room 321, Coulter Building, 213 South Broadway, at 3 p.m. today, for the purpose of electing a board of directors for the ensuing year. Every member of the Red Cross in the community is entitled to be present and to vote and the officials urge the attendance of all to the end that the meeting may be as representative as possible. They point out that it is of the highest importance that the affairs of the chapter be in the hands of a strong board of directors, and it is the duty of every member to take a personal interest in this election.

The officials find that the public at large has a very inadequate idea of the work that the chapter is still doing and say anyone who has the welfare of Red Cross at heart (and this ought to include every man, woman and child in the community) will find a great deal to interest him at this annual meeting.

Everybody in Los Angeles knows of The Gamut Club—and the Gamut Club uses and endorses

Ra-do timeless GAS HEATERS

C. B. McCollum, club manager, writes of the RA-DO: "With an almost insignificant consumption of Gas, you have provided us with a delightfully even temperature, and an atmosphere utterly free from fumes, stuffiness and headaches and it gives us a great deal of pleasure to acknowledge these facts."

You may be sure the Gamut Club would not recommend the RA-DO if it did not come up to claims made for it. In view of this, isn't it a sensible idea to buy a RA-DO instead of the ordinary smelly gas heater?

NO SETTLEMENT YET.

Mrs. Handley and Mrs. Lamb Fail to Reach an Agreement.

Negotiations between attorneys for Mrs. L. A. Handley and Mrs. Elizabeth Lamb over the estate of the late State prohibition enforcement director continued yesterday without reaching any definite conclusion.

Receiver Goodwin, appointed by the court to take charge of the Handley property, yesterday assumed control of the two apartments around which most of the controversy centers.

Attorneys for neither side would discuss the report that the rumored offer of $1000 by Mrs. Handley to Mrs. Lamb in full settlement had been raised to $2000, but it was stated that an agreement of some kind is expected within the next few days.

Watch Your Gums—Bleeding a Sign of Trouble

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the forerunners of Pyorrhea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhea poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. These poisons often cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist immediately for special treatment.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITTAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of ever having a new hair growth.

Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs.

At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asseverated would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days.

That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious pomade.

I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalko, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalko.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive dryness or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often when hair falls out the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain for a time like bulbs or seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampoos (which contain alkalis) and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotalko contains those elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

MOROSCO PLANS FINE THEATER.

Site on Seventh for Twelve-Story Edifice.

To Operate Show House and Produce Films Here.

Vaudeville Stars Signed for Los Angeles Billing.

Plans for a new twelve-story class office and office building, to be known as the Oliver Morosco Theater, have been completed, and negotiations are now under way for the purchase of a site on West Seventh street, according to an announcement made yesterday by Mr. Morosco.

The purchase of the property upon which the new theater will rise probably be completed within ten days, Mr. Morosco stated, and construction of the new building, which will be one of the finest ever erected in the city, will be started immediately by Mr. Morosco and his associates. According to the plans which have been prepared for the theater, it will follow closely in architecture and design the new Capitol Theater of New York, and it will have a seating capacity for about 1500 people.

It is intended to operate the new theater in conjunction with the picture produced by the Morosco Producing Co., the new motion-picture company which has been organized with a capitalization of $2,500,000, by Mr. Morosco and associates. The theater is to be a first-run house for Morosco productions. Mr. Morosco has announced that he has completed negotiations with a number of the foremost vaudeville artists to appear in the new theater. Plans also include the installation of a symphony orchestra of thirty-five pieces.

The first picture to be produced by the Morosco Productions will be "The Railroaded," with William Desmond, who originally created the role in the leading part. Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne will be associated with William Desmond in the production. Mr. Morosco states that he has reserved the motion-picture rights on about twenty of his stage plays, giving the new film studio a stock for three years.

It is not the plan of the Morosco interests to build a new studio at the present time, although it is intended to purchase ground and to erect a modern plant when the needs of the company is well under way. Meanwhile, a lease will be taken either the Brunton or the Cecil B. Mayer studios, both of which have been offered the company on a rental basis. The production of the first picture will be started within the next two weeks, Mr. Morosco said.

HOT WOOER STRIVES TO BURN LOVE?

Also Her Husband, Children and Two Visitors, According to the Complaint.

The unrequited love of Andrew Jadrijaw took a Bolshevistic turn when he discovered that Mrs. Vincent Thomas, a married woman with several children, who lives at 222 South Beacon street, Los Angeles Harbor, spurned his ardent advances, it was indicated yesterday. A complaint, issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Heinecke, charges him not only with trying to burn Mrs. Thomas's house, but her and her children, husband and two visitors as well. He is accused of arson and with trying to burn the residence while it was occupied by Mrs. Thomas, Vincent Thomas and Johanna Lena, Johnnie, and Nick Thomas, and John Grusich and Tom Soholish.

Jadrijaw was arraigned before Justice Hinshaw, who stated he had not heard of just such another case of misapplied affection. The court fixed bail at $3000 and hearing was set for November 3. To the court Jadrijaw said he had not attempted to burn up his love in revenge for being taken before Police Judge Crawford of San Pedro on a charge of disturbing the peace by his continued and vain appeals.

FREIGHT STEAMER OF NEW LINE DUE TODAY.

BRINGS GOODS IN EIGHTEEN DAYS FROM NEW YORK AT MATERIAL SAVING.

At daybreak today the freighter Steel Ranger will steam into Los Angeles Harbor on the final leg of her maiden voyage. Eighteen days ago she left New York with a cargo of 2000 tons for Los Angeles merchants. She will deliver her cargo here two weeks before it could have been reasonably expected if the goods had come by rail, and at the same time 40 per cent of the transportation charges will have been saved. Most of the goods will go directly to members of the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association.

The Steel Ranger is the first of nine or ten ships of equal tonnage which will be put into operation between the Atlantic and Pacific Coast ports by the Isthmian Steamship Company of New York. She is loaded to capacity, carrying 9400 tons of goods which will be delivered along the coast as far north as Portland.

"TITCOMB PLAN" HIT BY McADOO.

Ex-Chief of Railways Shows How Espee Scheme Fails.

Says Passenger and Freight Terminals Must be One.

Eliminates Arcade Depot as Site for Union Station.

Declaring yesterday that complete unification of passenger and freight facilities is the only thing which will solve this country's great transportation problems, William Gibbs McAdoo, formerly Director-General of the Railroad Administration, put his finger on the weak spot in the "Titcomb Plan," which recommends a joint Southern Pacific and Salt Lake passenger station at the Arcade depot and no unionization of freight facilities.

That Mr. McAdoo has never had the Arcade Station in mind as a suitable location for a union terminal is indicated by the fact that the Railroad Administration, early in the war, seriously considered the establishment of a temporary union station at the Santa Fe depot.

At that time Mr. McAdoo sent engineers from Washington who went into the subject of a temporary expedient for a union station. They agreed with the engineers of the Railroad Commission of California, with whom they conferred, that the Arcade station could not be used as a union depot for all the railroads. Plans were then drawn and submitted to the Railroad Administration for enlarging the Santa Fe station for temporary use, pending the construction of a permanent union station at the Plaza, which they all agreed was the proper location for a union terminal.

Mr. McAdoo's conclusion that complete unification of passenger and freight facilities, not only here, but everywhere, is the only sound way to approach the great transportation problem, eliminates the "Titcomb Plan" urged by the Southern Pacific railway, because this scheme at best calls only for combining the Salt Lake passenger facilities here with those of the Southern Pacific.

HIS VIEWS ASKED.

Asked yesterday at the Hotel Maryland if he ever reached a definite conclusion to the effect that the union terminal in this city should be located at the Plaza, and if he accepted the fundamentals of the report made to the State Railroad Commission by State Engineer Edwin Chalmers, McAdoo said:

"I investigated the needs of Los Angeles in respect to a union terminal in a rather hasty manner, and did not study the engineer's report in detail. My conclusions were predicted upon the assumption that the government would retain control of the railroads for not less than five years. Government control terminated so abruptly that the matter was dropped.

As to Mr. McAdoo's views regarding unification, while he was Director-General of Railroads, the following telegram sent by him from Glacier Park, Mont., July 27, 1918, to F. W. Blanchard, president of the Central Development Association here, gives some insight. It says:

"The purpose is to reduce as much as possible and not to increase traffic on Alameda street. I have asked the State Railroad Commission to give me the benefit of its views, which will be considered before a decision is reached. This problem is being considered in line with the general policy of unifying wherever practicable passenger stations for the convenience of the public. The matter will be settled by me solely upon its merits and according to the best judgment I can formulate as to what is genuinely for the public interest."

MUST CUT WASTAGE.

Mr. McAdoo was informed yesterday that the State Railroad Commission and City Council have been urged to accept a plan which leaves the unification of freight terminals out of the question and calls only for unifying the Salt Lake and Southern Pacific railways.

"I am no longer a railroad man," was his reply, "but I have gone into the question in a large way and am convinced that the only way this country can solve its gigantic transportation problem is by unifying all passenger and freight facilities. This year we face a $1,700,000,000 increase in passenger and freight costs. The only way to meet such an emergency is to eliminate the enormous wastage involved in the operation of countless separate terminals."

Asked if all the railroads are not unalterably opposed to unification, Mr. McAdoo replied:

HIKERS ORGANIZE.

Organization of the Lincoln Hiking Club has been perfected, with William Tennis of 2013 Pasadena avenue, as secretary, it was stated yesterday. The club is to encourage the taking of week-end or Sunday trips into the mountains that natives and tourists may be made familiar with the flora and fauna, as well as the birds and topography, of the Southland.

CONTRACTS FOR SPOUSE TO DRY UP?

Woman's Second Mate Says She Paid Medium to Make First "Fade Away."

Back of the statement of Allen M. MacQueen that his wife, Mae MacQueen, had deserted him without cause, there was a story as Judge Wellborn ascertained in the trial of Mr. MacQueen's divorce suit yesterday.

Judge Wellborn insisted upon knowing why Mrs. MacQueen left her husband. Mr. MacQueen told the tale from the day he first met Mrs. MacQueen. At that time she make a report to the police station the street one day Mr. MacQueen said he saw the former husband shoot at his wife. He hurried to make a report to the Police Station and said that meantime the husband had stabbed the woman, his wife.

Mrs. MacQueen consulted a spirit medium, he testified, and entered into a contract under which she paid him $718.60. The medium was to use his spiritualistic powers and "cause the husband to dry up and fade away."

The spell did not work for the husband continued in good health. Finally he did retire to his ranch, where he committed suicide.

Mr. MacQueen became a boarder at the widow's house. Finally she said to him, he declared:

"As we are going out together, we had better get married."

"Did you accept the proposition?" asked the court.

"I did," was the reply. "We got married, and I lost all my money and my health in addition."

Mrs. MacQueen, who had filed an answer and a cross-complaint, did not contest the suit.

THIRD PRIZE OFFER.

Painting Added to Gifts for Golden Wedding Couples.

With the announcement that the Hollywood branch of the Security Bank is putting up a $500 painting as a gift for the married couple which has lived in Hollywood the greatest number of years, three prizes are now included in the list to be awarded at the "golden wedding" entertainment at the Christie studios today at 2 p.m.

One of the other prizes is a silver set from Hamburger's for the Los Angeles couple which has been married the longest.

The third prize is a silver loving cup to be given by the Christie Film Company to the couple in the motion-picture industry which has spent the longest married life together.

One actor and his wife who have been married thirty-two years have already expressed their intention of competing and it is possible that some professionals who have surpassed even that long record will be there.

MUST ENCOURAGE BUILDING

Banker Says This is Sure Way to Bring Down Our High Rents.

BY HENRY S. McKEE,
Vice-President Merchants' National Bank of Los Angeles.

On account of high rents and the lack of enough housing, both for dwelling and business purposes, the thing we all want and hope for is more building and lower rents. No individual or organization has much control over these matters. They are governed by economic laws and work themselves out in their own way. There are several very powerful influences at work on the situation, and it is possible to say what some of these forces are and what their effect is likely to be.

Rents are high because there is not enough housing in this city to supply the demand for it. Building of more housing simply requires the investment of capital in new building, but so much capital was destroyed in every country in the world by the war that there is a great scarcity of it. One of the great economic laws is that capital seeks investment where it will yield the highest return. This is an important law because the place where money will yield the highest return is very sure to be the place where it is most needed.

Foreign governments, American railways, great industries and the business demands of commerce are all requiring more capital and offering very high returns upon it. If it is to be drawn into building investments, equally high returns must be yielded upon it. This is all a matter of simple common sense. Those who cry the loudest for more building and low rents are not, as a rule, seen to be themselves investing any money in new building. They are very anxious that new buildings shall be constructed, but want some one else to construct them.

GOOD RETURNS ESSENTIAL.

There is no surer way to prevent the building of more homes and more business buildings than to attempt to beat down rents below the level that will be fixed for them by the economic law and by human nature, which determine that money shall be invested in enterprises that promise as high a return from the investment as can be obtained elsewhere with equal safety.

It is therefore perfectly certain that to forcibly reduce the rents of, for example, apartment-houses, will be merely to so terrify those who might build apartment-houses that they will not dare build them for fear they will never receive an adequate return from their investment. They will instead loan their money to the Swiss government or the Pennsylvania Railroad, or invest it in some other business that promises safe and adequate income return.

We are all human and this is the way we all act. On the other hand, if rents are high and the earnings from apartment-house investments are consequently good, then capital will flow into the building of apartment-houses and the higher the rents are, the more capital will be attracted into such buildings. This will result in too many such structures being erected and they will compete with one another for tenants and rents will then come down.

In brief, the only way to bring down rents is to have more dwelling-houses and apartments than there are tenants. The only way to get too many is to persuade some one to build them.

PROSPECT NOT CHEERING.

The only way to do this is to promise a comparatively fair return upon the investment and this necessarily means high rent during the period of time which will be required to bring about this natural result. This is not a very cheerful prospect for the tenant of today, but it is the truth and might as well be faced.

A few years ago we had in this city just the opposite situation. The city was greatly overbuilt and dwellings, apartments and business premises could be obtained for rents that were absurdly low. That time may come in the future. Attempts to relieve a situation like the foregoing by acts of Legislature and by the imposition of penalties upon the charging of high rents are perfectly futile. Frequently they defeat their own ends. They are in defiance of all reason and common sense and have been proved futile by experience.

It is equally absurd to scold at a supposed class of people generally classified as "capitalists." Any man can answer that question for himself by deciding what he will do with the few hundred dollars or the few thousand dollars that he has for investment. If he will deliberately invest it in a business that is less profitable to him than others which are offered, or if he will put it into the building of an apartment-house at a time when the State laws or city ordinances are attempting in every way to reduce the income he expects to receive, then he may properly blame others for feeling the same way about it.

WAY OF HUMAN NATURE.

But he will not do that. He will seek out the safest investment he can find which will yield him the highest possible income he can obtain. It is the way of all human nature and the whole world, and it is a fortunate way, for it is the principle upon which the world's entire development from barbarism has taken place.

To avoid misunderstanding, it should be said here that the foregoing discussion applies to the great general tendencies. It does not, of course, apply to those instances of which one so frequently hears, through the press and otherwise, of extortionate rents exacted from helpless people by those who take unfair advantage of an acute situation to an extent that amounts to little less

MRS. PEETE WILL REFUSE GRAND JURY TESTIMONY.

Central Figure in Denton Murder Mystery is Found, Arrested on Indefinite Charge and Guarded in Hotel.

Mrs. R. C. Peete, the central figure in the Denton murder mystery investigation, will appear before the county grand jury this morning, but will refuse to be sworn or to testify to what she knows of the slaying of J. C. Denton.

This was practically the net result of a day's activity on the part of the District Attorney's office, which began a frantic search for Mrs. Peete following her disappearance the day before and ended in her being placed under arrest, with four guards on duty in and near her room at the La Crescenta Hotel, to insure, as Dist.-Atty. Woolwine explained, her appearance before the inquisitorial body today.

The "finding" of Mrs. Peete, an event in the progress of the case almost as important as her disappearance, was engineered with the assistance of W. J. Ford, who, with W. D. Van Nostran, is now Mrs. Peete's counsel. After dodging detectives, reporters and camera men for twenty-four hours, Mrs. Peete telephoned to Dist.-Atty. Woolwine yesterday morning and said she was among those present in the city. Mr. Ford and Chief Dep. Dist.-Attv. Doran also received early-morning calls from her and were told that she would call again. Some of these telephone appointments were not kept, but eventually Mrs. Peete did show up at the home of Attorney Ford, 1012 North Berendo street, and there awaited the arrival of Mr. Woolwine.

As soon as he learned that Mrs. Peete was waiting for him, Mr. Woolwine went to lunch, took an extra detective with him and left for Mr. Ford's house. There he was joined by Attorney Van Nostran and Mr. Ford and their client, and in a few minutes the party started for the La Crescenta Hotel.

UNDER ARREST.

"I told Mrs. Peete that she would be placed under arrest—very much under arrest—and that she would not be permitted to leave the hotel until she is called by the grand jury tomorrow," Mr. Woolwine said later in the day. Mr. Woolwine made it plain that no formal charge had been placed against Mrs. Peete, but indicated that the grand jury will be the instrument through which a formal charge in the Denton murder case is expected to be made.

The arrest-without-a-formal-charge arrangement was reached after Attorney Ford asked Mr. Woolwine whether he intended to issue a complaint against his client, or whether he wanted to have the grand jury act in the case. He told Mr. Woolwine that he had instructed Mrs. Peete to refuse to be sworn or to make any more statements to the District Attorney's office or to the grand jury on the grounds that such statements might be used for the purpose of incriminating herself.

"We know nothing about the evidence the District Attorney's office claims to have against Mrs. Peete, except what was published in the papers," Mr. Ford said, "and have had no time to go into every detail. I have discussed somewhat fully with my client her visit to Los Angeles and her experience at the Denton house, and have had some discussion as to the details alleged to have occurred, but unless the grand jury indicts Mrs. Peete, we do not feel called upon to make any explanations about the circumstances that the District Attorney may think incriminating."

If the grand jury does indict Mrs. Peete, Mr. Ford said, her attorneys plan to avail themselves of the earliest opportunity to go over the evidence against her as disclosed by the grand jury transcript of the inquiry. "In view of the suspicions that have been directed at my client, and feeling that Mrs. Peete is entitled at all times to the advice of counsel, I have advised Mrs. Peete not to say anything until we know fully just what is charged against her." Mr. Ford explained.

NO DEFENSE PLANNED.

Mr. Ford said he does not deem it advisable to make any forecasts of the line of defense he will adopt in the event the grand jury returns an indictment against Mrs. Peete today. Asked if the defense of insanity has been considered, assuming that an indictment is voted against his client, Mr. Ford said:

"In reference to a defense of insanity, I can say that so far as the evidence alleged to be in the possession of the District Attorney, I see nothing at this time sufficient to overcome Mrs. Peete's positive statement that she did not commit the crime. Under the circumstances, then, I see no reason for discussing that phase of the case."

Mr. Ford indicated that in all the discussion between himself and Attorney Van Nostran and Mrs. Peete, her stories relating to the questions involved, did not shed any radically new light on the case.

Mrs. Peete's much-discussed absence from the La Crescenta Hotel Monday was due to her desire to spend the day quietly, without any possibilities of being "pitied, censured or interrogated," she told Mr. Ford.

She said she was told she was not to appear before the grand jury till Tuesday. She left the hotel and arrived in Los Angeles Monday morning. As soon as she entered the building, where her attorney's office is located, she became aware of the presence of sundry detectives and newspaper persons. Mr. Ford said, and decided not to enter the

TO BUILD BOTTLE FACTORY.

That a glass-bottle factory with an annual output worth approximately $1,000,000 is to be built on the railroad near Avenue 35 and Pasadena avenue was announced yesterday when it became known that a two-acre site has just been purchased there. The company will be known as the Co-Operative Glass Company. It is headed by William C. Blank, M. L. Haines and M. Andreani of the law firm of Andreani & Haines, W. Trevor of the S. Bachman Company and George S. Reeves.

According to plans made public for the first time yesterday, the factory is to turn out flint glass of the first quality and standard and special sized and shaped bottles. The first unit of the plant will cost $100,000 and will be built so that additional units may be constructed at any time. Three shifts will be worked each day.

The furnace will be of 250 tons capacity, with a melting capacity of fifty tons a day. The first unit will include six semiautomatic bottle machines, which will make any size of bottle and one-half ounce to 128-ounce capacity. The plant will be equipped with the most modern appliances. The furnace will burn either gas or oil.

The plant is to be started by forty men skilled in the manufacture of glass. They will work in the plant and own stock in the organization. The annual pay roll of the company will be $182,000, according to present plans, and a total of sixty men will be employed.

TOTS HELD IN LIEU OF BAIL.

Mother, Taken on Fictitious Check Charge, Freed.

Leaves Fashionable Hostelry to Earn Own Living.

Bureau of Catholic Charities Caring for Children.

Technically Mrs. Elizabeth D. Ryon, accused of passing fictitious checks, was released yesterday by Justice Hinshaw on her own recognizance, but actually, in effect, her two children, one but 2 years old, were put up as hostages for her appearance in court on November 17.

Mrs. Ryon was arrested Monday night on a second complaint, charging her with passing a fictitious check for $35 on the Beverly Hills Hotel, where she was formerly a guest. She had previously been given a hearing on a charge of passing a check for $2425 on the same hotel, but the case was dismissed.

When Mrs. Ryon appeared in court yesterday, her attorney informed Justice Hinshaw that she had no money to put up a bond for her appearance, nor any friend to do so. She was arraigned and Dep. Dist.-Atty. Fitts opposed releasing her on her own recognizance. It was pointed out by her attorney that she was now employed and trying to earn her living.

Mrs. Harrington of the Bureau of Catholic Charities informed the court that the two children were being cared for by a Catholic institution.

"You will not leave so long as your children are here will you?" asked the court.

Mrs. Ryon said she would not and the court stated that her children should be placed ostensibly in the custody of Mrs. Harrington as assurance that Mrs. Ryon would appear in court. She was then released after a night in the County Jail.

SUPPORT JUDGE WORKS.

Prominent Women Cite Qualifications for Court of Appeal.

Sixteen prominent Los Angeles women, well-known in club circles and civic affairs, have issued a signed statement in support of the candidacy of Judge Works for the appeal bench, which says:

"We are supporting the candidacy of Hon. Lewis R. Works for Associate Justice of the District Court of Appeal, because we know him to be temperamentally fitted for the position; because the attorneys of Southern California testify as to his legal attainments; because he is keen minded, a thinker and student; because his practice of twenty-eight years and his seven years on the Bench have ripened his experience and judgment; but we are supporting him most of all because of his strong sense of social justice and the rights of his fellow-man and because he stands for the progressive, forward-looking thought that we women are anxious to see presented in our courts of justice."

Those who signed the statement are: Mrs. Barthold Baruch, Mrs. Robert T. Brain, Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, Mrs. John T. Coleman, Mrs. Herman S. Darling, Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz, Mrs. Frederick Hickox, Mrs. M. E. Johnson, Miss Elizabeth Kenney, Mrs. E. E. Leighton, Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, Mrs. John S. Myers, Mrs. Emma L. COMMUNITY PROPERTY ACT HIT HARD BLOWS.

FORMER JUDGE SHOWS HOW LAW WILL BE TROUBLE-MAKER IN THE HOME.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 26.—Former Judge William Rhodes Hervey made a telling argument against the manifold dangers of the proposed community property law before several hundred members of the Present Day Club today.

He reviewed the hardships which the law would bring upon the women themselves; explained the liability for debts which would be imposed under conditions almost certain to arise, and pointed out the blow to credit which the law would entail, and the fact that it would serve to disinherit children and would lead to endless family differences.

Judge Hervey took occasion during the course of his remarks to pay his respects to the Woman's Club of Riverside, which is said to have declined to hear the reverse side of the argument on the grounds, it is said, that if the members only heard the pro they would not be confused when it came to depositing their ballots.

TO UNVEIL MONUMENT.

Memorial Structure at Huntington Park Almost Completed.

A memorial statue and fountain, erected in honor of the Huntington Park men who served in uniform during the World War, will be unveiled at Huntington Park at 2 p.m. Sunday, November 7.

Funds for the memorial were raised by popular subscription by the Huntington Park Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Association, of which William P. Selvin is chairman. The plan for the memorial was launched on the day that the armistice was signed, a movement that put Huntington Park in the lead of all American cities and towns in starting a war memorial fund.

HELPFUL HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES.

Famous Chef Tells What to Cook and Also How.

Says More Attention Should be Paid to Kitchen.

Gives Menu for a Tasteful Halloween Supper.

[A chef and master baker of many years' experience, A. L. Wyman is known by thousands of epicures and patrons of the best hotels of America, as well as by habitues of the hotels and clubs of the Orient. He is recognized as one of the leading practical food experts in this country. For the pst six years he has conducted schools of practical cookery in the principal cities of Southern California.—Ed.]

BY A. L. WYMAN.

It is by no means an original observation to say that many a marriage made in heaven has been wrecked in the kitchen. But it is as true today as when it was first uttered, and the equivalent of this philosophical remark must have been made more years ago than many of us care to remember. Too little is usually made of the kitchen. The wise and thrifty housewife makes it her center of all work, but so many disregard its real significance in the conduct of the household that the time comes when they need instruction.

The question of the cost of foods is a very important one. The housewife who is able to keep down the cost of her daily menu is the one who is giving a due amount of study to the economic value of necessary foods.

The American housewife's cooking problems are old to me, and if the housewives of Los Angeles and Southern California will write me a letter asking for recipes, menus for dinners, luncheons or special occasions, I will be more than pleased to give them the benefit of my experience, and my tested and proved recipes through the medium of this column, which will be published every Wednesday. Address all requests to A. L. Wyman, 4229½ Woodlawn avenue, Los Angeles.

Here are some recipes and suggestions for Halloween:

For the Halloween supper the table should be bare. In the center place a mat of woven grasses, on this place a basket carved from a large yellow pumpkin and encircle with asparagus fern. Fill the pumpkin basket with oranges, grapes, apples and walnuts. Place several large, yellow chrysanthemums on the corners. For doilies, use the crape paper ones that can be purchased in any good store. For favors, fill orange baskets with yellow and black candies.

The menu should be ample and appetising and served at the table. A suggested one follows:

California Fruit Cocktail
White and Brown Bread Sandwiches
Rodman Salad
Fresno Ice Cream
Fruit Gingerbread
Sweet Cider Coffee

Dumb cake should be served after the supper and every crumb must be eaten in absolute silence, each person making a wish.

For the housewife who would learn, here are the recipes:

California Fruit Cocktail: Mix equal parts of oranges, diced pears, honeydew melon dice, maraschino cherries and grapefruit dice; add a tablespoon of grape juice and a teaspoon of lemon juice to each cup of mixed fruit, chill and serve in supreme glasses.

Chicken a la Mazatlan: Three tablespoons of shortening, one clove garlic, chopped, one teaspoon Spanish seasoning, one onion finely chopped, one and a half tablespoons flour, one teaspoon salt, two tablespoons finely chopped parsley, three cups tomatoes, to which add one teaspoon sugar, and one medium-sized chicken, cut in pieces as for frying. Fry onion and garlic in the shortening, until soft and golden in color; add the flour and when light brown, add the tomatoes, Spanish seasoning, and salt; let boil up once; add the chicken and simmer until tender. Serve over a hot platter garnished with points of toast and pimientos. Sprinkle over all the chopped parsley.

Salad a la Rodman: Three celery roots, boiled, and cut in dice; mash a cream cheese, moisten with a few drops of lemon juice and add one-fourth cup of chopped walnut meats and roll into small balls; seed and peel two cups of white grapes and fill cavities with pieces of pimiento. Arrange celery root, cheese balls, and grapes on a bed of bleached endive or lettuce leaves and serve with a French dressing.

French dressing—Mix one teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon white pepper, one-quarter teaspoon paprika, four tablespoons tarragon vinegar and two-thirds cup of salad oil in a bowl rubbed with the yellow rind of a lemon.

Fresno ice cream—Add to two quarts of vanilla ice cream one cup of chopped, seeded raisins and one cup of chopped white figs.

Fruit gingerbread—Half cup sugar, three tablespoons shortening or butter, one beaten egg, one and a half cups of flour, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon ground ginger, one teaspoon ground cinnamon, one teaspoon soda, half cup milk, half cup molasses, one-third cup seedless raisins, one-third cup chopped candied orange peel, one-third cup chopped candied lemon peel. Beat to cream the butter and sugar; add the beaten egg; sift the flour, soda, salt, cinnamon and ginger together. Mix molasses and milk and add alternately to the sugar mixture with the sifted dry ingredients; beat well and add the fruits. Pour into buttered shallow pans and bake thirty-five minutes in a medium oven.

Dumb cake—Six cups flour, three cups sugar, one cup butter, two cups milk, four teaspoons baking powder, eight eggs, one cup strained orange juice. Beat to cream the butter and sugar; beat in the yolks of the eggs and beat smooth. Add the flour sifted with the baking powder and a half teaspoon of ground mace, alternating with the milk; add the orange juice and lastly the well-beaten egg whites; beat smooth and bake in large flat baking pan in moderate oven thirty-five minutes. When cool cut with sharp knife from corner to corner, so as to form two perfect triangles; put together with orange icing and cover the top and sides with a white icing. Outline the top of the cake with walnut halves and sprinkle browned cocoanut on the sides before the icing sets.

WRITER LAYS BARE SELFISH RAIL FIGHT.

SCORES ESPEE AND PAID PRESS FOR OPPOSITION TO PLAZA TERMINAL SITE.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.

Los Angeles Times,
New Times Building,
Los Angeles, Cal.

Dear Sirs: For more than twenty years I have been a subscriber to and reader of The Times. I recall vividly the powerful fight you made against the Southern Pacific Company in its attempt to prevent the construction of a harbor at San Pedro when that company was seeking to monopolize the commerce of the ocean, so far as it concerned Los Angeles, by influencing Congress to restrict its appropriations for the improvement of an old wooden pier which the Southern Pacific Company dignified by the name "Port Los Angeles."

I have noted the support of The Times of many objects and purposes sought by the Southern Pacific Company and at times I have rebelled against what seemed to me a decided leaning of your paper towards the Southern Pacific Company, but I realize now that The Times has been wholly impartial as between the railway company and the city of Los Angeles and has sought to do justice under all conditions. It ought to be most gratifying to our citizens to note the able and energetic support The Times has given to the Railroad Commission, the City Council and the citizens who advocate the Plaza as the only practical site for a union railway station.

Personally I am moved to compliment and praise you for your stand in this most serious and important matter. If the Southern Pacific Company is to be permitted to defeat the location of a union station at the Plaza site, then its monopoly on railroad facilities here will become so firmly intrenched and fortified that it will never be broken. This is a matter for experts and we surely must follow the experts paid with the people's money.

The fight is between the people of Los Angeles and the Southern Pacific Company. Your advocacy of the rights of the people is most refreshing and commendable, especially when one notes the friendly attitude towards the Southern Pacific Company assumed by the paid press of this city, especially the Examiner, which seem willing at all times to assume the burden of the corporation as against the just interests of our citizens provided sufficient money is expended in their paper for advertising and otherwise. The Examiner seems to champion the cause of the people only when there are not large advertisers on the other side of the fence.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Smothers, and the late Rev. John Wesley Smothers, of Kansas City, was lovely in a going-away suit of blue duvetyn, trimmed in silver fox. She wore a corsage bouquet of yellow roses and lilies of the valley. She comes from a family noted for its many ministers—her grandfather being Rev. John Glaze of Ohio, and her uncle, Col. Henry Glaze of Ohio, also being a minister. She and her mother came here two years ago. Mr. Campbell is the son of Mrs. Selina Campbell-Webb, of 851 South Wilton Place and stepson of the late Judge John Sidney Webb. He is a graduate of Stanford University, and for two years was instructor in the engineering department at Stanford. Later he resigned to become professor in the mechanical engineering department at the University of Nevada. He saw active service in France on the Western Front during the war, with the air service, being a commissioned officer. He is an engineer with the Union Oil Co. After a trip, the couple will reside in Los Angeles.

DIRECT ACTION.

The way to eliminate grade crossings is to cut them out. This may suggest a major surgical operation, but the diagnosis of the patient says to go ahead with the sharp tools.

THE WARRING HOSTS.

Members of the W.C.T.U. in an eastern city had an old ladies' home raided because some of the inmates had blackberry cordial in their medicine lockers. Isn't it awful when the women get to fighting one another? Men are lucky, after all.

PREPAREDNESS.

The administration has just sold a million dollars' worth of surgical bandages that were left over from the war, but still has a few thousand yards in which to swathe the form of one James Middleton Cox after the great American voter gets through puncturing his pelt.

COMPROMISE EASY.

Leon Bourgeois, the president of the League of Nations, says that Article X of the covenant can be eliminated without in any way modifying the effectiveness of the League. If that is the way the leader of the League feels about it there are American orators who have been wasting a threatful of feverish words. M. Bourgeois adds that the Europeans do not consider Article X as being important—as the Americans seem to do. He also says that individual states may propose such amendments to the covenant as they may see fit. What are we fussing about? Just politics?

RAISING THE RENT.

Under the new landlord-and-tenant law of New York a landlord who had raised the rents of his apartments 66 per cent was restricted by a jury to an advance of 10 per cent. It would be impossible to have a jury for every division of opinion, but a few cases and a few verdicts could create a basis to start from and help clear the skies. A 10 per cent advance doesn't seem very much to the landlord—especially if he has been recently confronted with a boost of 70 per cent in his tax bill, but the status of the tenant must also be considered. The public good demands that a better reason be advanced for raising rents than the mere thought of the landlord that he can find somebody who will have to pay the price.

GUESSING GAMES.

Jack Dempsey will not go to Europe to show the kings and potentates samples of his handiwork. If any blooming Englishman wants a good beating up he will have to cross to our side of the pond to get it. Jack is going to stay under the Stars and Stripes and about the only thing he has in mind now is the scrap with Carpentier, the continental champion, which seems to be in the offing. If the gentlemen take to poking each other right hard it may be a brief contest with an unexpected end. Each carries a wallop that tastes like dynamite and, although they may spar along for an hour or so, the battle is just as likely to end with a short and pernicious jolt. The guessers will have something upon which to exercise their talents.

THE TRAFFIC WORKERS.

There is no city in the world where it is more important that large numbers of people should be able to quickly come and go than Los Angeles. Its position on the Coast also guarantees that it shall be a notable port for world shipping. Steamship and railway locomotives must here meet and exchange their burdens. Yet there is no large city in America served by so few railroad systems. Other big towns have from twenty to thirty lines. Los Angeles has but three and one of these has done its best to maintain a monopoly on traffic. Many believe that this is a short-sighted policy. There are business men and traffic experts who declare that if Los had two more continental systems the Southern Pacific would be doing even more business than it is today. Traffic makes traffic and what is lost at one spot is made up at another. But whatever it does to the Southern Pacific, the city of Los Angeles must obtain the terminal and belt line facilities which are essential to her position and progress.

AMERICA'S PART.

In his latest communication to the voters before going to the polls Senator Harding definitely gives his pledge to the League in these words:

"The Republican party proposes in the realm of international affairs such an association of nations as will most effectively further the aspirations for world-wide and permanent peace without sacrificing any part of the independence of the American nation. It believes that America can and must bear its full part in the responsibilities of the world, but it always believes that America alone must decide what that part shall be."

That is fair enough. A nation that is creditor of Europe to the extent of ten billion dollars does not have to worry much further about problems sacrificing her independence. Senator Harding has already said that good sportsmanship demands that we ask no pledges or covenants of our allies and associates to which we ourselves are not prepared to subscribe. Under those circumstances a peace association should not be so difficult to arrange. More than forty nations are already in the vestibule of a court of peace.

SHORTRIDGE AND VAN DE WATER.

Dejected by the volume of Harding and Coolidge sentiment in California the Democratic leaders have practically abandoned hope for the head of their ticket and are devoting their energies to an attempt to elect a Democratic Senator and three or four Democratic Congressmen from this State. The Democratic National Committee has mapped out a campaign by which it hopes to elect so many Democratic Senators that the Democrats and Nonpartisans can combine and organize the Senate against the next President, who, in their private councils, they admit will be Mr. Harding. Their plan contemplates the re-election of Senator Phelan of California.

As the Republicans had a majority of but two in the last Senate and one of the seats now held is likely to be lost to a Nonpartisan, it is apparent that California may prove the pivotal State in deciding the control of the next Senate. Four years ago California made possible the election of a Democratic President; unless the Republican voters of the State awaken to the seriousness of the present situation California, while helping elect Harding, may turn the control of the Senate over to a Democratic-Nonpartisan coalition.

Yet there was never a time in the history of the State when its industrial, agricultural and commercial prosperity depended to such an extent on the election of a Republican Congress and a Republican Senate. Beans cultivated by Chinese coolies in Manchuria are selling in California for 2 cents a pound. That is less than the labor cost alone in California. Lemons raised by cheap Mediterranean labor are selling in New York for $2.20 a box; the freight rate alone from here to New York is $1.40 a box. The actual cost of placing California lemons on the New York market is $4.40 a box. Rice imported from the Orient is selling in California 2 cents a pound below the actual cost of growing it here. Pima cotton is selling in New York for less than the labor cost of producing it in California. This list might be extended to include a dozen other California products, but the four concrete instances cited are sufficient to demonstrate that the dumping of foreign products produced by the cheapest labor in the world must be checked by a protective tariff or important California industries will be ruined.

The Republican party has always advocated a tariff that would equalize the labor costs between articles produced in this country and in foreign states. It has favored a policy to foster and develop American industries where it could be done without putting undue burdens on the consumers of the country. The Democratic party has not departed in a half-century from its policy of "tariff for revenue only." If the Republicans fail to secure a majority in the next Senate all hopes of protection for California industries will go glimmering. It is not without precedent for the Senate to be controlled by a single vote. If the Republicans of California fail to elect Samuel M. Shortridge they may deliver the Senate over to the anti-Republican coalition and make the enactment of protective tariffs to foster California industries impossible. When one reflects that the Republicans have a Senatorial majority of but two votes, and when one recalls what happened in 1916, the serious nature of the situation is apparent.

Senator Phelan advances the specious argument that he favors protection for California industries, that he once proposed a tariff for California lemons. He says that, while not a Republican, he is "something just as good." The fallacious nature of this argument is fully exposed in the following extract from a recent statement by C. C. Teague, president of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange:

> If a Republican Congress revises the tariff and California's Senators and Congressmen are Democrats, no matter how able they may be, California will get very little consideration, as, in that case, our Representatives would not be a part of the working majority of Congress.
> I well remember when I was one of a committee presenting California's claims for protection before the Ways and Means Committee of Congress certain Republican members of the committee delighted in reading California's Democratic record and would draw the conclusion that, judging from that record, California did not believe in a protective tariff. Hence, it is of the greatest importance that a solid Republican delegation should be elected in order that California may receive the consideration to which she is entitled.

Mr. Teague spoke as the representative of a nonpartisan organization. He advocated the election of Mr. Shortridge to the Senate and Mr. Van de Water to the House of Representatives, not for any partisan reason, but because he considers their election vitally necessary for the protection of California's industries. It is true that Senator Phelan proposed a tariff for California lemons. But he rose from his seat on the Democratic side of the Senate to do so. The incongruity of his position was so apparent that he was laughed down and his amendment received but seven votes. A Democratic Congress in 1913 reduced the tariff on lemons from $1.40 to 40 cents a box.

If Senator Phelan is re-elected he will cast his vote for the anti-Republican combine in the Senate. He will do his best to organize that body against the new President. He will strive with the partisan spirit he has always manifested to wreck the Republican administration, although the prosperity of the country be entangled in the wreck. The same condition prevails in the Ninth Congress District. If Mr. Randall is re-elected he will occupy his old seat on the Democratic side of the House and his name will appear as a part of the Democratic record of California. Mr. Teague presents the situation in its bald reality. If Phelan and Randall are re-elected, irrespective of what party controls Congress, California will get no more protection for its industries from the next Congress than it has received from the Congresses which have been elected since 1912. It was in 1912 that the Democratic record began. Since that year every tariff revision has cut down the protection afforded by former Republican administrations to California industries.

Senator Harding has made a special appeal to the Republicans of California to support his administration by electing Republicans to Congress.

WHATEVER THE PUBLIC DEMANDS.

Prices during the war were high, but not exorbitant. After the armistice they started on a brisk ascent. They rose and rose till by spring they reached the rim of the world.

These price vagaries were not arbitrary. They were the result of fixed economic laws.

During the war, under the able guidance of Mr. Hoover, the American people resolutely denied themselves many of the comforts and luxuries to which they had been accustomed. They did this that their allies in Europe might not be prematurely defeated by starvation.

In passing we may remark that among the disputes as to "who won the war" the most important factor has seldom been advanced. The American housewife's economy in the sad winter of 1917-1918 was the chief contributory cause.

As a result of this economy, although prices in home markets rose, the pinch was scarcely perceptible. Because during this period the American public was "doing without." They were actually growing richer through their necessities. Had it been otherwise Liberty Bond drives would not have been so successful.

War profiteering was not active in food and clothes and shelter. The worst profiteering during this period was confined to extravagant contracts entered into by Democratic department heads in Washington.

But after the armistice was signed came the larger era of peace profiteering. Then everything not riveted to earth broke loose. Food, clothing, shelter—all joined the wild ascension. The family purse was thrown away and loose change carried around in the open hand. So prices aviated progressively. And while the public grumbled goodnaturedly they gloried in their divine extravagances.

But all the same, people were gradually growing poorer. They were selling, not buying, Liberty Bonds. They were trying to see how much they could "do with," not how much they could "do without." The demand was for high-priced goods and the supply was forthcoming—also the price.

So the peace profiteers waxed fat and saucy and possessed the land.

It was at these flush times that a big wholesale clothier advised the retail trade they need not flinch from raising prices just as their fancy dictated, because the public was quite willing to foot the bills. And he was right. So the public continued to get just what it demanded.

About the same time, however, a large number began to grumble, not good-naturedly, but in real earnest. Many were tired of the open hand and wanted to get back to the family purse. The Liberty Bonds were all gone.

In any storm the first port is generally "the government." It was so with the gouged consumer. Yet any relief attempted by the government is always paid for in full measure from the public taxes, which means the family pocketbook.

So the government promised to fix both the prices and the profiteers. They fashioned a strange implement and christened it "the Lever law." Many deserving Democrats were added to the mighty army of well-paid parasites to give expression to these halcyon promises.

And how did the Lever law work? Did it frighten the profiteers? Did it reduce the price of any everyday article? Did it prove a good substitute for the law of supply and demand? Not that anyone but a Democrat officeholder could notice.

One instance of how the Lever Act worked in practice will suffice. Under its authority the government fixed the price of sugar and anyone who dared change that price was to be cast into dark dungeons and given over to the lord high executioners. And it came to pass that a certain sugar broker was discovered to have sold sugar at three cents above the price fixed by the would-be repealers of supply and demand.

Immediately those Democratic officeholders who were not away on vacation got busy on the case. The erring sugar broker was haled into court. And then the evidence showed that the sugar had been sold at auction and that the price had been fixed, not by the broker, but by the buyer. Moreover, the buyer admitted that he would have paid even three cents more if necessary, so seriously did he require that assignment of sugar. So to be logically enforced the Lever law would have to imprison the very victims it was advertised to protect. The prosecution was dropped. Comment is superfluous.

Such fiascos brought the public to the limit of its patience. At last the people took the remedy into their own hands. They brought into action their old friend, the law of "Supply and Demand."

Once again the housewives started to practice the virtue of Hooverizing. They sought for the shops where goods were sold for a little less. The market basket again became popular.

Men were no longer willing to pay $100 for a $35 suit of clothes. Five-dollar shoes marked up to fifteen went begging for customers.

In the face of this falling demand the attempt to keep up the price of supplies was like attempting to fly a punctured balloon. The good old law started to work easily and by a natural process. It didn't hit the wrong person as did the artificial Lever law.

Today prices are falling under the pressure of public demand. No government interference can either retard or accelerate the movement. After futilely finding a few profiteers, after arbitrarily fixing prices on specially picked articles (exempting products of essentially Democratic States,) after imposing excess-profit taxes (which the consumer finally paid) and spending millions in investigating many imaginary trade combinations (investigations that ended generally in whitewash) the Democratic administration fell helplessly down on the job.

And the people took it up on their own account and the problem began to solve itself with remarkable smoothness and consistency.

There is no law more immutable and dependable than the law of supply and demand.

There is no force so irresistible as public determination.

TAX GATHERING.

The day may come when some politician will achieve fame and power by discovering some insinuating process by which the government will be able to levy a tax on taxes. A fat tax on a man's tax receipt would be fine business for the grand army of spenders.

GETTING TOGETHER.

It begins to look as if the miners of England would get more money if they would deliver the goods. That would be the case almost anywhere and is good argument for piece-work payments in every possible line of human endeavor. Manufacturers and merchants have not complained so much over the increases in wages as they have over the falling in production. Man power has been augmented in the matter of reaching for the pay envelope, but has slumped at the production end. Measured from the box-office standpoint it takes two and one-half men to deliver what one man accomplished in a day ten years ago. It is hard for business to adjust itself to the altered conditions and there will be failure in some lines before the thing is accomplished. Practical co-operation and both the will and the wish to be fair to the other fellow would straighten out all the kinks and put the country on a wholesome working basis. Without this there will be a lot of drifting.

Frontier Etiquette.

Fresh from Boston, the lawyer in the frontier town had just finished a glowing summing up for the defense. There ensued a long pause, and the easterner turned in some embarrassment to the judge.

"Your Honor," he asked, "will you charge the jury?"

"Oh, no, I guess not," answered the judge benignantly. "They ain't got much, anyway, so I let them keep all they can make on the side."—[American Legion Weekly.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE IDOL.

Once I was a public idol for a fortnight and a day; like a bridegroom to the bridal I went on my gorgeous way, and fair maidens went before me, strewing flowers along the road, and a halo hovered o'er me when I sat in my abode. But the idols always stumble, being fixed with feet of clay, and, forgetting to be humble, I threw public love away. On the ninth day of October roses hit me in my walks; on the tenth the people, sober, handed me a bunch of rocks. For the wealth of adulation made me feel I was a king, made me think in all the nation I was sure the biggest thing. And in every place I landed I was swollen up with pride, and my dome of thought expanded till my hat split up the side. And the people got the willies, poor, erratic, changeful hicks, and they passed me no more lilies, but bombarded me with bricks. If again I am an idol I'll be wiser, I allow; and no cheap, inflated pride'll strip the laurels from my brow. For the idols wouldn't tumble, they'd be cherished to the end, if they'd just be meek and humble as adown the world they wend.

WALT MASON.

JOHN TAXPAYER.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

"So you are Taxpayer, eh?" exclaimed I as I gazed with profound interest on the strange caller and shook his quivering hand.

He had entered quietly and the first thing that had impressed me was the lips that were so tightly drawn over his teeth that they seemed on the point of cracking. His eyes, too, glowed with a strange light, though they were sunken. They seemed like the gleam of coals from within a lantern. The wisp of hair on his chin dangled like a brush and gave him a strong resemblance to a goat—a goat that had made up its mind to revolt and was about to run amuck. This resemblance was so complete and wonderful that, as I looked upon his face, I gave an involuntary bleat and stared about me for shelter.

It was then that he had hurriedly told me that he was the well-known Taxpayer, who had contributed so much to municipal literature. I had heard much of and from him, but he had usually been retiring in his communications. He had always managed to keep his personality in the background. He might crave publicity for his cause or his griefs, but not for himself.

But now he seemed different.

I could not refrain from commenting on his likeness to an Angora. He smiled wanly. "I'm used to being kidded," said he. "You ought to know that I am the great American goat. If any politician has a wild idea or any faddist a crazy dream it is up to me as Old Man Taxpayer to give it a try-out. I've been picked up as a goat so often that it's no wonder I look like one. I think I bleat in my sleep."

"I also notice that you have a pen," interrupted I, with an amiable grin.

"It's the only thing I have left," said the veteran sadly, "and I'm afraid it's about worn out. For ages and ages I have been writing letters and editing the paper for you and sometimes I have been able to make a slight impression on the leathery hides of the politicians themselves. But the breed they raise now seems to be hopeless. They will neither listen to reason nor argument. They have heard that I had a couple of dollars left and they are going to break me if they have to open a beauty parlor in every voting precinct. That's why I came down in person today instead of sending a polite note. When I send a letter the politicians say: 'Taxpayer writes a beautiful hand. We'll have to do something for him. You take his watch and I'll take his wife and overcoat.' I have about as much chance as a gopher fighting a steam shovel. But I've got tired of sending perfumed notes and souvenir postal cards and I am here to serve notice that I propose to raise hell."

"Sh—h!" whispered I. "Remember that there are ladies present."

"I'm glad of it," exclaimed Taxpayer, elevating his voice another notch or two. "The women have helped to make life miserable for me and I hope they can hear me now. When the dames were new in government they listened to every bunko politician that had a scheme. They took their politics from the dream book and any guy with a sentimental idea could work them for a million dollars—of John Taxpayer's money. It was easy come and easy go. Maybe Taxpayer would be asked to furnish free millinery to all working girls and provide safety razors for the Russian army. But now the women of California have had the vote long enough to know that Taxpayer is one of their own family and if they put knockout drops in his coffee he won't be able to bring home the bacon on Saturday night. They ought to quit flirting with strangers and learn light housekeeping and plain cooking. They ought to know that, even if some folks call thrift a private vice, it is also a public virtue. Every woman ought to know that spending what you haven't got is playing with barbed wire."

"What are you going to do about it?" inquired I, calmly.

"It looks as if I were going to ask for the appointment of a receiver," answered Taxpayer. "Did you see the tax bill I got last week?"

"Maybe not, but I saw one just like it," answered I.

"And what did you think of it?" persisted the veteran.

"Looks to me as if it had graduated from the multiplication table into higher mathematics," said I. "They told us that we had reached the peak of the high cost of living. The tax collector must have climbed the peak on stilts and then taken a stepladder to reach for the moon."

"As an ancient and honorable goat I am used to being milked," rambled the veteran, "but when they put on husking gloves to do the milking it is coarse work and it hurts. My regular tax bills are 70 per cent higher than they ever were before and there's a flock of special assessments waiting in the vestibule. They want me to pay for putting in a boulevard a mile from where I live. They want to roll me for a couple of hundred thousand silver bones to build a diamond-studded salon where our growing fairies can be trained in fox trotting and making up for the movies. They want a jazz band in the Church of the Pilgrims and they want a million-dollar playground for the children of the idle poor. The income tax collector is sitting on the back steps with a shotgun across his knees and the bootleggers are asking $12 a quart for prune juice and tea. I'll say that this is a world of graft and grab."

The Matter with Kansas.

October calamity note from the Emporia Gazette: If this warm rain is followed by warm weather the Kansas wheat will take an upward shoot that will be dangerous. It will have to be mowed or it will have to be pastured. There are not enough cattle in the State to pasture it, and there are not enough men in the State to mow it. All the gods in heaven are laughing at the predicament of Kansas.—[Kansas City Star.

The stars are for Harding, but the moonshine is for Cox.

Why not have the "Beautiful Blue" waltz named as the national air?

The Democratic keynote has as many keys as the average Ford carries.

What nation is next on the waiting list to have its swelled head reduced?

About the only way to stop the theft of automobiles is for everybody to have a car.

What did the Governor of New Jersey say to the Governor of Ohio when they met?

The Presidential election is to be determined by the grim good sense of the electorate.

If the Democrats had to do it over again they would nominate Babe Ruth for President.

It is now charged that Senator Harding is also an accomplished soloist on the auto horn.

Gov. Cox is wet in the East and dry in the West, but there will be trouble if the twain ever meet.

No doubt President Wilson would be in favor of amending the Constitution so as to annul the Senate.

The "mantle of Jefferson and Jackson" will have to be remodeled to fit the shoulders of some of the talent that essays to wear it.

President Wilson is getting better. He told a story the other day and everybody laughed. He must have predicted the election of Cox.

A candidate for the Presidency has this advantage. Instead of answering the questions of the other fellow he can retort by asking a few himself.

It is our opinion that in shortening the gowns of some of the ladies we should use the mantle of charity—and that is about the only cloth in sight.

Franklin Roosevelt, the vote-getter for Gov. Cox, wants great tracts of new land opened up for homeseekers and insists that such a policy is the specific for the new day. But Franklin will be out of a job on March 4, 1921. He might quote on that proposition.

NOBLESSE OBLIGE
By John Strong
NO EXCEPTIONS.

Noblesse Oblige is not a cult, a highbrow possession and expression. Some of its best exponents are among the poorest and humblest and the least-favored of earth, because it is of the soul, and the soul is no respecter of persons.

The man or woman who lives up in the U.S.A. whose conduct is susceptible of the self-application of Noblesse Oblige.

Noblesse Oblige abhors the cad, the cheater and elevates the good sport. Under Noblesse Oblige it matters not whether we win or lose, but how we play the game.

Noblesse Oblige admits of no camouflage. It functions on the square—just you and I—or it functions not at all. We have nor on what we can get by.

It is as much but no more the criterion of conduct for the lowliest and weakest as for the highest plutocrat or intellectual.

It is as much but no more the criterion for the poverty-stricken possessors as for the wealthy producer and those who have.

Under American social conditions Noblesse Oblige is the ideal. There is no exception to it. There are no degrees nor classes in Noblesse Oblige. That's why it is the best show of force or power to our American institutions.

MRS. ELLA LEFTWICH, another Kansas City woman whose remarkable restoration by Tanlac has astonished her neighbors, many of whom have begun taking the Master Medicine. "They all agree with me that it is the greatest medicine on earth," says Mrs. Leftwich.

"A number of my friends, after seeing the wonderful good Tanlac did me, began taking the medicine, and now they all agree with me that it is the grandest medicine on earth," said Mrs. Ella Leftwick, 722 Pile St., Kansas City, Kans.

"Tanlac completely restored my health," she said, "and just seemed to give me a new lease on life. If I could talk personally with every woman suffering as I did, I would urge them to take this medicine.

"For the first time in three years I am able to eat and enjoy three hearty meals every day and no suffer in the least with indigestion afterwards. I am never troubled now with the awful smothering spells that used to frighten me so much, and the dreadful headaches that came upon me every day have been entirely broken up.

"I was extremely nervous and couldn't sleep well, but now my nerves are in splendid shape, and I sleep like a child every night. My strength has been so wonderfully increased that I can now do all the housework in my eight-room house and attend to the children besides. I feel just splendidly all the time now. Tanlac is certainly worth its weight in gold."

Noted Englishmen Talks on Vital Questions.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Oct. 26.—The meeting of the City Commission today developed into a spirited debate between members of the body known to favor the building of a municipal traction line connecting with Los Angeles and representatives of the Better Government League, one of whose members has sought an injunction to prevent the commission from urging the project.

The Better Government Leaguers filed a petition with the commission for more information concerning the railroad project.

A. G. Allen, attorney for C. W. Leighton, the league member who filed the injunction suit, said the proceedings would be dropped if the commissioners would agree that no city money be expended advertising the railway bond issue. The commission agreed.

CAN'T THROW STONES.

Members of the city park department shouldn't throw stones now, for they have a new glass house. The glass house has been erected at Sheldon and Montana streets and will be used as a park department nursery. Valuable shrubs and flowers for the parks will be nurtured there.

Property owners on Walnut street today filed with the City Commission a request that the proposal to widen and extend Walnut street be deferred at this time.

Southern California has become the premier golf region of the United States, said Mrs. Gourley Dunn-Webb, the only woman professional in the United States, who just arrived here after a season in the North. Mrs. Dunn-Webb has been engaged by one of the large Los Angeles stores for this season.

The great mass of public opinion in England has been against the coal strike and opposed to the miners, said Sir Francis Aglen, a distinguished Englishman, who with Lady Aglen, is a visitor here.

Sir Francis and his wife are on their way back to Peking, China, after an extended vacation in England. Sir Francis is Inspector-General of Customs for the republic of China. He succeeded Sir Robertson Hart in that post.

"The people of England want an end to strikes at this time; they want to get down to work and 'catch up' after the post-war unrest," said Sir Francis, when speaking of the labor trouble. The strike was impending, but had not broken when he left England.

"Great Britain is watching the election in the United States with a great deal of interest, said the visitor, wondering what will be the attitude of the country and the action of the new administration with respect to the League of Nations.

The visitor characterized the Irish situation as "quite a muddle." There are as many differences of opinion on it in England as there are in the United States, or in Ireland itself, which is hopelessly divided in opinion as to what should be done," he declared.

ATTENDS ROTARY MEET.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Oct. 26.—A. E. Isham, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and also of the Rotary Club here, has returned from Fresno, where he attended a meeting of the clubs of the district. Presidents and secretaries gathered there for a conference with Leslie Evers of San Diego, who is the governor for the district.

The conference was called for the purpose of drafting a general program of work for the next six months. The district plans to have a certain uniformity about the meetings and to take up several big things for the good of the whole.

The delegates were entertained with the members of the Fresno Rotary. There are about 100 members there and a fine entertainment was arranged for the visitors

McADOO STRONG FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

FORMER CABINET MEMBER TALKS AT POMONA; BUSINESS MEN ELECT OFFICERS.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, Oct. 26. — William Gibbs McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury, arrived in Pomona at 2 o'clock this afternoon from Pasadena. He went directly to the First Methodist Church, where he spoke to a large audience on the League of Nations issue.

He was introduced by Rev. J. F. Hedgepeth, pastor of the Holt-avenue Methodist Church. Mr. McAdoo devoted himself to an explanation of the League covenant and voiced his opinions. He stated that he would rather see both parties "go down to oblivion," than have the League of Nations issue unsolved for the benefit of the world.

George E. Thomas was elected president of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce at the first meeting of the new board of directors held at noon today. W. A. Vandegrift was elected first vice-president, W. A. Kennedy, second vice-president, Fred E. Graham, treasurer. Charles P. Bayes will continue as secretary.

The business session was held following a luncheon served in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Directors present were A. E. Tate, H. J. Nichols, F. W. Ritter, George H. Thomas, E. R. Yundt, J. M. Paige, F. E. Graham, W. A. Vandegrift, Fred E. Whyte, Harry Armour, A. T. Richardson, P. J. Smith, D. C. Crookshank and W. A. Kennedy.

MUST CLEAN UP.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Oct. 26. — As the first measure of Venice's fall house cleaning, city officials closed one bakery shop this afternoon and threatened to close two other business houses because of unhealthy, unsanitary conditions. Store proprietors were told to cleanse their floors once a day, at least, with salt water and to sweep their ceilings three or four times a week.

Some objection is raised every year to Venice's practice of sending inspectors into shops and closing stores without notice, and as the "visiting" day usually comes in September, it was generally believed that the city had abandoned house cleaning this year. Inspector Mike Moreland and his assistants sprung a surprise party.

"There's no reason why Venice should not be a spotless city, living on the shores of the biggest bathtub in the world," the inspector said today.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Oct. 26.—As the initial step in the nation-wide campaign that the United States Navy will make to inspire enlistment, the U.S.S. Baltimore will anchor in the waters of Venice November 4, bringing with her the destroyers Seagull, Thrush and Ludlow.

Gov. Stephens will speak at the hours with only safety stops.

band plans and the naval band of the Baltimore will play. Special athletic and feature programs are under plan by the Venice Chamber of Commerce and the city officials.

Naval officers will present a program, significant of the purpose of the navy in its drive for enlistment.

MAKE OIL FIELD OF CITRUS GROVE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Oct. 26.—The fine citrus orchards at Tustin, two miles from Santa Ana, will be prospected for oil before many months, under plans announced today.

Two hundred acres of Tustin land have been leased, and the drilling will be done by the Tustin Oil and Development Company, now being formed. The directors are Neal Belsael, William Bowman, P. H. Ebel, J. C. Gray, H. E. Matthews, Sidney E. Saunby, and W. J. Saunby, all of Tustin.

MONEY FOR A NAME.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Oct. 26.—A game—that is, a good name—is wanted the worse way by the Pacific Electric. As a result, C. H. Jones, the general manager for the eastern division, is offering $10 to the person who will give him the best name for the new flyer that is to be put on November 1 between Redlands and Los Angeles.

Mr. Jones has been calling the new train, which will be the first no-stop flyer put on the San Bernardino Valley line, the Citrus Belt Flyer. But he is not satisfied with that and believes that the people of Southern California can suggest a better name.

He already has many suggestions. Among them are Zip, the Grayhound, and Era. It must be a name that will express the purpose of the train, making seventy miles in two hours with only safety stops.

A.A.U. TO ELECT OFFICERS TONIGHT.

The annual election of officers of the Southern Pacific branch of the A.A.U. will be held in the committee room of the L.A.A.C. at 8 o'clock tonight, Secretary Ralph Jesson announced last night.

This is an adjourned meeting, the date originally having been set for two weeks back. The gathering was postponed on account of the absence of Bob Weaver, president, who was checking the disbursements of the American Olympic Committee in New York.

BAN JOHNSON CALLS MEETING OF LEAGUE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Ban Johnson, president of the American League, today called a meeting for Friday of the five club owners who refused to attend the meeting of baseball magnates here last week, when the other three American League magnates and the eight National League owners voted to abrogate the present national agreement.

The five are Thomas Shibe of Philadelphia, Clark Griffith, Washington; Phil Ball, St. Louis; Frank Navin, Detroit, and James C. Dunn, Cleveland.

The course of the American League majority owners in the event the Chicago, New York and Boston teams carry out their threat to withdraw from the League and join the eight National League owners in setting up a twelve-club circuit will be discussed.

SARGENT-BRADY TIE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WEST BADEN (Ind.) Oct. 26.—George Sargent of Columbus, O., and Mike Brady of Detroit were tied for the first eighteen holes of play in the open professional golf tournament today. Each made the eighteen holes in 75, one less stroke than J. C. Gordon of Chillicothe, O., Laurie Ayton of Evanston, Ill., and Jock Hutchinson of Chicago.

Prexy McCarthy Expected to be Here Today.

De Vormer Says Things in Written Statement.

Attorneys Hurl Questions in Baseball Mess.

Baseball quiz of corruption in the Coast League, suspended Tuesday because of failure of Salt Lake players to appear as witnesses, is expected to be resumed by the grand jury today.

These players cannot be required by the grand jury to appear before a California jury, and it would seem to be up to Coast League officials to force them to clear themselves, if possible, or drop from the ranks of the league.

President McCarthy, in fact, already is using his influence to have these players appear, according to a telegram received from the league president yesterday by Frank Stafford, deputy district attorney. Also, according to this wire, McCarthy expects to be here today.

Some of the contents of the written statement filed by Al DeVormer, Vernon catcher, with Mr. Stafford, also have been divulged.

In this DeVormer claims he protested to President McCarthy the smallness of his check from the fans' fund. DeVormer said he understood the check has been reduced to $152 because a certain amount of the fund has been set aside to bribe players on opposing teams. According to DeVormer's statement, he was given to understand that $700 of the original fund was paid to one Salt Lake player and four Portland players, and that subsequently $1100 was paid out of the fund to the Salt Lake team.

DeVormer declares he never consented for any of his part of the fund to be used in buying players on other clubs.

ASKS QUESTIONS.

Griffith Jones, attorney for Borton, has propounded these questions for the Vernon club to answer:

"Al DeVormer stated to the District Attorney's office that he didn't get his full share of the fans' fund. Where did the balance of his money go?

"Is it not a fact that the fans' fund is $2000 short.

"Why was the fans' fund distributed to the players by Borton, and not by Bill Essick, the manager?

"Why, if Wehrle's clients knew so much as they claim they know, did not McCarthy act before Borton requested the grand jury investigation?

WHY NOT NAMES?

"Why do you not give the names of those you claim sent checks to the fans' fund, but whose checks you now claim were no good—why do you not give the District Attorney the names of those people in order that they may be checked up?"

Attorney Wehrle has issued the following statement:

"Borton must in some way have endeared himself to the sure-thing gentlemen, for after his exposure here last July, when he was caught trying to bribe Stroud, and paying money to Maggert, a gambler approached John F. Powers, owner of the Los Angeles team, and Dr. F. E. Stone, a close personal friend of President Maier of the Vernon club, concerning the advisability of sending Borton to Australia.

TURNED IT DOWN.

"This man said he would give Borton letters which would give him a start in Australia. Dr. Stone said Vernon was not interested in what Borton did, and Mr. Powers would have nothing to do with the proposition.

"Why this kindly solicitude for the discredited Borton? Perhaps the grand jury investigation may explain the reason for this charitable outburst."

JOHN HOYLE COACH.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ITHACA (N. Y.) Oct. 26.—Appointment of John Hoyle as head coach of the Cornell crews to succeed the late Charles E. Courtney, whom he assisted for twenty-one years, was announced today by the Cornell athletic council. Cornell crews will retain the famous Courtney stroke and continue to follow the same rowing methods, it was announced.

Aren't They the Cut-ups?

Celebrities—Some Local and Some Visitors.

For instance—up above is Nick Altrock, who was one of the greatest pitchers that ever swore at an umpire before becoming our leading baseball clown. The lower picture has been aptly captioned "Having Some Corn on Cobb." Reading from enormous to not so big we have Roscoe Arbuckle, or at least a portion of him; Ty Cobb, one of the diamond's greatest stars; and Buster Keaton, one of the funniest finds of the movies.

T. COBB CAN'T UNDERSTAND BLOWING UP CASTLES WHEN THERE IS HOUSE SHORTAGE.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Considerable people wanted to see Ty Cobb yesterday, but Ty wanted to see the cinema in the cocoon, and passed the day visiting the various movie manufactories to the exclusion of all else save the customary three meals. He was almost as hard to find as Mrs. Peete.

In the forenoon the famous athlete was lured out to Buster Keaton's work shop by Harry Brand, and later in the day went elsewhere to witness the blowing up of a castle. It was necessary for him to stick around until almost nightfall to be an eyewitness of this outrage.

Ty admits that it is some town where they blow up castles right in the middle of a house shortage. He says it isn't being done in any of the eastern cities these days.

For many years Mr. Cobb has severely taxed his eyes beholding the canned drama in shadow stadiums, but never before has he seen the actors and actorines in the process of being preserved. This interests him as does anything else in these parts. Heretofore he has always passed his winters in the solid South, and the liquid West is comparatively unknown to him.

Today he will behold some rough stuff at one of the studios as the guest of Roscoe Arbuckle.

Quite a few baseball fans who couldn't locate Ty visited the grand jury room in the hope of picking up a smattering of baseball scandal.

But the jury was taking a day off, the same as Mrs. Peete. Newspaper men were also present, seeking something about which to write.

They found moving picture machines planted at both the entrance and exit of the Hall of Records. These were prepared to shoot any current event on the wing, such as Mrs. Peete entering the building or a baseball athlete receiving an oblong package in his left hand while his right was being held in a receptive attitude, also. But these transactions are entirely too fast for the moving picture camera as a rule. Also, it was hoped to get a flashlight picture of the master mind back of all this business, but such a mind is generally so foggy that it can't be photographed.

So, everything considered, it was a bum day around the grand jury room and the District Attorney's office.

Today, however, probing the carcass of the great national pastime will be resumed unless something of greater pith and moment arises, and those desiring to see our heroes coagulate their feet in the outer office while waiting to spill their testimony can do so.

TROJAN BABES GO NORTH.

Freshman Coach Herd of U.S.C. is to take his nifty football team north tomorrow night to play the Stanford peagreens on Saturday in the first big game of the season for the local frosh. The following week the crack first-year aggregation of the University of California comes south for a contest on the native heath.

Herd is to take nineteen men with him—Dick Lawson, Chet Dolley, Campbell, Milton, John Hawkins, Arch Hawkins, Phil Tiernan, Dick Emmons, White, Borey, Chet Long, Cummings, Freeman, Farrow, Von Mohr, Kuchel, Guthrie, Sanger and Taylor.

The U.S.C. peagreeners have run rampant all this season in contests with southern prep teams who consented to play the Trojan babes. In addition, they defeated the U.S.S. Idaho eleven and the San Diego Junior College teams by topheavy scores.

Some of the classiest men in the prep ranks last year are on the Trojan yearling squad. Dolley, Lawson and Tiernan were back-field stars with Long Beach. Dick Emmons was a Manual demon. John and Arch Hawkins were lights at Fullerton High, Chet Long at Pasadena. Milton and Campbell came from the East with fine reputations.

From a long distance range it doesn't seem possible that the Stanford babes can trim the local cracks. Three or four southern boys are playing with the Cardinal team, Bud Woodward of L. A. High, Judy of Santa Monica, Hartranft of Fullerton and Rau of Venice. The first two named are back-field men and the latter are line players.

EXCITEMENT IS AT HIGH PITCH.

Mechanics Work in Secret at Washington Park.

Each Team Has Won Two Football Contests.

CITY LEAGUE STANDING.

	Won.	Lost.	Pc.
Los Angeles	1	0	1.000
Manual Arts	1	0	1.000
Hollywood	1	1	.500
Lincoln	0	1	.000
Jefferson	0	1	.000
Pasadena	0	1	.000

Intense excitement is brewing in the prep school football ranks over the scheduled game between Polytechnic and Manual Arts Friday afternoon. There hasn't been anything like it since the commotion caused by the 6-6 tie between Manual and Hollywood last year.

The Mechanics have requisitioned Washington Park and are working out in secret for the first time this year. Coach Voyle Brennan is drilling his men in the foxy stuff, which he had to keep under cover while they were working on the fenceless and unsequestered expanse of the old Prager Park grounds.

ARE TIED.

The Mechanics are tied with the Artisans in the standings of the City League percentage column and the contest this week will go a long way to determining the complexion of the possible league victor.

Each team has won two games and lost none, Manual having little trouble with either Jefferson or Lincoln. Poly underminded Pasadena 26 to 6, and then defeated Jefferson 26 to 12. Manual beat the Democrats, 27 to 0, so on the basis of comparative scores the Artisans appear to have the edge.

DOESN'T TELL.

This, however, does not tell the whole story. Jefferson scored on Poly after Brennan had removed Capt. Murray Cuddeback, fullback; Houck, tackle, and a couple of other lumpy and powerful ginks from the line-up. Also Poly seemed to have little trouble in scoring two touchdowns right off the bat in the first quarter against Jefferson, and seemed destined to roll up a lot more when Brennan removed the young gentlemen referred to. Therefore, the fact that Manual scored more points than Poly against the common rival and was not scored upon while Poly had her goal line crossed twice, does not make that a good point upon which to base a Manual victory.

CHANGING PLAY.

There has been some talk of changing the field of play. The game is scheduled for Manual, but there has been so much enthusiasm stirred up in public circles that either Washington Park or Bovard Field may be selected as the scene of festivities. That apparently is the only feasible way of handling the crowd that will want to see the fracas. The Manual bleachers were packed when Jefferson played there. Twice as many will want to see the Poly-Manual combat.

The other games scheduled that day are Hollywood at Los Angeles and Pasadena at Jefferson. The Pioneers are leading the league with three games played and won, but the Foothillers may upset them from their lofty perch. Pasadena and Jefferson should provide an even brawl.

OFFICIALS CONCEDE BELGICA IS WINNER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Officials of the Aero Club of America today conceded that the Gordon Bennett international trophy for free balloons had been won by the Belgian entry Belgica, piloted by two Belgian army officers, Lieuts. De Muyter and La Brousse. They covered about 1100 miles between Birmingham and North Hero Island, on Lake Champlain.

Formal announcement of the winner of the international race, which started from Birmingham, Ala., last Saturday, probably will not be made for several days.

MEUSEL IS SIGNED UP WITH THE ALL-STARS.

"Irish" Meusel, leading home-run hitter of the National League this season, arrived in town yesterday and was immediately signed up to play left field for the All Stars against the White Sox ball team (colored) at the Sox park, East Fourth and Anderson streets, next Sunday. "Irish" brought word that his brother Bob is on the way to Los Angeles and that the former Vernon swatter will be here in a couple of weeks.

MARTIN AGAIN VICTOR.

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Oct. 26.—Lew Tendler of Philadelphia won a newspaper decision over Joe Welling of Chicago in a scheduled ten-round no decision fight here tonight.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Oct. 26.—Pal Moore of Memphis and Joe Lynch of New York fought eight rounds to a draw here tonight, according to a newspaper decision.

OXY NOT TO PLAY COAST FLEET TEAM.

There will be no game next Saturday between Occidental and the football team representing the Pacific Coast fleet.

When Coach Stanton learned that the Navy eleven took in the whole fleet instead of one boat he suffered a change of heart. The Fox figures that a game with a team the caliber of Coach Jonas Ingram's bunch following the U.S.C. grinding battle would be asking too much of his men.

WHITTIER DEFEATS CITRUS.

In a weird football game Whittier High School defeated Citrus Union High School yesterday by a score of 28 to 14. Citrus made all her points in the first half, Capt. Clark scoring two touchdowns. In the second half Whittier came to life, and Harris and Capt. Ehrich each scored a pair of touchdowns.

TOMMY O'BRIEN KNOCKED COLD.

Billy McCann Rocks Irishman to Sleep in First Round.

Main Event at Vernon Lasts but Thirty-five Seconds.

George Drew, Sailor Ackerman in Terrific Mess.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Somebody got their sights crossed when they matched Tommy O'Brien with tough Billy McCann of Cleveland. The Vernon main event last night lasted just thirty-five seconds, eighteen of which O'Brien spent draped on the floor of Jack Doyle's fight shed.

The mill was only a few seconds old when the Clevelander swung a right from the hip that landed flush on O'Brien's jaw. O'Brien went down in a heap. The kick of a mule couldn't have accomplished more. Tommy's fighting heart came to his rescue and he crawled to his feet at the count of eight.

YE GODS!

He staggered up, backed into the ropes and McCann let loose again. This time O'Brien went down for keeps. Referee Les counted him out, and he was carried to his corner, where it took the quick aid artists several minutes to revive him.

The semiwind-up between George Spencer and Frankie Garcia wound up in a draw. Neither was able to do any damage, but Spencer deserved the decision on account of his aggressiveness. Garcia entered the ring with a bad cold, which probably slowed him up.

George Drew and Sailor Ackerman put up the real, live high-powered brawl of the evening, if you can forget those terrific smashes of Mc-Cann's. In the first two rounds those two birds hit more wallops than were landed in all the rest of the bouts of the evening.

PEPPY SAILOR.

The Sailor jumped into the ring like a fork of sipped lightning. He ...fore Drew like a thing possessed, and hit him with everything in the house but the chandeliers. Drew came to life after a minute of the festivities had passed away, and from then on it was his night. The Sailor was dead tired when the bell sounded.

Bert Meyers beat Fred Young in four rounds, and Sailor Walker got the verdict over Marshall Booker.

The bout between Jack Oliver and Sailor Bisc ceased functioning in the second canto when Bisc slammed Mr. Oliver to the floor. The "knockout" had a smell to it. It was a hard blow that felled Oliver, but he was far from out. He simply had enough.

Soldier Graham gave Billy Mack an awful beating in the curtain raiser.

The One Word Noah Webster Could Not Define

No dictionary really tells us what SUCCESS is. Its true definition is found in its attainment. And to attain success is less difficult than we sometimes think. The road leading thereto is plain and open. On the guide-posts along the way are inscribed these words:

Pause for a moment and examine the signs along the road you are traveling. Does your progress manifest SUCCESS or are you groping aimlessly and hopelessly along the uncharted?

Bull Montana to Take on Champ Gust Pappas.

Title Holder Joe Stecher is Headed This Way.

The wrestlers are upon us in full force. For a while we managed to stagger along with some ordinary grapplers as Bull Montana and Konstantine Romonoff, who didn't claim to be champions of anything in particular. One of the surest signs that there is something brewing is the advent of some tin eared personage who admits that he is the champion of something or ther.

We now have with us one Gust Pappas, a large Greek, who says that he is the middleweight champion of America. Just why he is the middleweight champion any more than Walter Miller or Ted Thye or any of the other champions of the same divison is not quite clear, but that is of little consequence inasmuch as he wants to meet Bull Montana, claming that he can heave Bull with little or no exertion.

SOME BATTLE.

Pappas certainl is a good wrestler. Several years ago, in the days when Sam Clapham was dubbing around these parts, Pappas and Sam put on one of the greatest battles ever seen locally, wrestling something over three hours to a terrific draw. Later Pappas defeated Tony Ajax, one of the best near middleweights we have ever seen around here. He has defeated Mike Yokal and several other champs or near champs and Dick Donald, the demon grappling impresario is now trying to bring Pappas and Montana together.

A whole flock of toe twisters is headed in this direction for the express purpose of crowning Mr. Konstantine Romonoff, the gentleman with the talented legs. There are lots of legs in the world that are prettier than Konnie's, but when it comes to using them for the purpose of slapping sweating heavyweights on their wishbones for the count of ten, Romonoff's pins are in a class by themselves.

Four of the best known heavyweights, including the champion of 'em all, are headed for the Coast right now and will doubtless have the pleasure of attempting to untangle Mr. Romonoff. Paul Martenson, a heavyweight who gave Stecher quite a run a few years ago at the Shrine Auditorium, Strangler Lewis, who needs no introduction, Wladek Zbyszko the unpronounceable Pole and Joe Stecher, the leg scissors champ, are all on their way here and will arrive in the course of a few weeks.

CARPENTIER TO FIGHT DEMPSEY.

PLAN FOR BOUT.

While the promoters are understood to be planning to hold the bout here in Madison Square Garden, ample provision is made for the shifting of the contest to another city in case opposition arises from any source.

Under the contract it will be possible to hold the fight in Canada, Mexico, Cuba or the West Indies. The site of the contest and the date will not be finally arranged for some time.

Many managerial and legal obstacles had to be overcome before the match could be made, because of the various contracts which one or the other of the pugilists had previously signed.

UNDER CONTRACT.

Carpentier was under an ironclad contract to Charles Cochran of London not to sign with any other promoter before Jan. 1, 1921. Rickard has held Dempsey's signature to fight for him for some months and it became apparent that the international heavyweight battle could not be arranged for months to come unless the two promoters joined forces. This was finally accomplished by Brady, who had acted in the capacity of Cochran's American representative until the latter arrived here recently to complete the details personally.

While it is understood that the promoters are counting upon a record gate in order to carry the burden of the huge purse involved, the motion picture receipts are expected to provide the greatest revenue in the long run. It had been estimated that if the bout is held in Madison Square Garden, box seats around the ringside would sell for nearly $250 each with other seats and positions ranging downward.

WORTH MILLIONS.

The total receipts from the motion pictures of the fight, especially should Carpentier win, would be worth millions abroad as he is a European hero. While films could be taken of the contest in the garden, the pictures could not be shown in some portions of the United States unless the present laws are changed.

Carpentier will leave for France within the next ten days to spend the Christmas holidays with his family, but plans to return to America early next year and begin training for his contest with Dempsey. Neither boxer will be permitted under the contract to compete in the ring previous to the coming battle, although exhibitions of short duration will be allowed.

The signing of the agreement will sidetrack, temporarily at least, plans for a return bout between Dempsey and Willard. This bout was tentatively scheduled for about the middle of March, and Willard was preparing to begin training soon.

SAGEHENS GET HARD WORKOUT.

Prepping Strenuously for the Battle with Trojans.

Coach Nixon Concerned About Bell's Condition.

Capt. Covington's Eye is Completely Healed.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLAREMONT, Oct. 26.—Following their 28-to-7 victory over California Tech. last Saturday, Coach Eugene W. Nixon's Sagehen footballers have been undergoing strenuous workouts at Claremont in preparation for their stupendous battle with U.S.C. Most of the players came through the engagement in good shape and at present the only matter which is worrying the mentor is the condition of his two stars, Covington and Bell.

Bell is still nursing his badly wounded shoulder and Nixon hasn't slept a wink in four days as a result of the slowness with which the injured member is mending. At present it looks as if he would not be in shape for Saturday's battle. Such a loss would greatly handicap the Sagehens as Bell has been a big factor in all their victories this season up until the time of his injury.

Capt. Covington's eye is completely healed and he will be in splendid shape for the game. The optic received quite a jolt, however, and pretty nearly had Covy cross eyed for a time. Of course, a cross-eyed quarter is highly desirable to some teams, but Nixon has peculiar ideas of his own about his quarters and declines to play a cross-eyed quarterback. It is therefore quite fortunate that the injured member is once more functioning properly.

When asked what his chances were of defeating U.S.C., Nixon was quite pessimistic.

"We haven't a chance in the world of beating them," he said, "but you can bet your last dollar that my men will not be outfought."

And that seems to sum up the whole situation fairly well. The Trojans should prove too strong for the Sagehens, but the men from Claremont will never be outfought by the Los Angeles team.

We Want

1000—New KISSEL Owners—in America

During November

Because

Every Kissel owner is a satisfied user.

Every satisfied user will tell 25 or more of his satisfaction.

Therefore, 1000 new owners mean that at least 25,000 additional people will know the merits of Kissel products.

25,000 or more additional people knowing Kissel merits from the experience of their friends, is the advertising asset we want.

Such an advertising asset will create a quick demand—maintain a fair production—and prevent an advance in Kissel prices.

Kissel factory and the distributor advertising this plan, will sacrifice $600 per car to secure this quick demand.

This is the time when true values must be carefully compared—

At this time when you must analyze your purchases carefully, especially motor cars and trucks, you cannot afford to take unnecessary chances and naturally wish the experiences of your friends first hand.

In the Kissel Custom-Built Six each one of these 1000 new Kissel owners will possess a strictly Custom-Built product on which are found those items and parts that usually cost extra, but are Kissel standard equipment, making it not only a complete car, but a car of over valuation.

An analysis of the Kissel Value Comparison Table shows that compared with other makes in its price class, the Kissel Custom-Built Six possesses more value in exclusive features and equipment, making it really UNDERPRICED. The chassis, motor and body are custom-built as you would build them were you the designer, incorporating such exclusive features as the Automatic Oil Control that insures the proper amount of oil at all speeds and on all grades; the Thermostatic Control that eliminates motor trouble in hot and cold weather; the special windshield and distinctive top of Kissel design; perfect road control, made possible with special frame design and proper weight distribution and equipment; body designs of a distinctive individuality, exclusive with Kissel.

NEW GARSON STAR.

LOUISE PRICE TO BE FEATURED IN PICTURE.

By Grace Kingsley.

Another charming young actress has decided to desert the footlights for the Kleigs. She is Louise Price, one of the younger New York actresses, who, having gained no end of managerial and critical recognition, indicating that she had "arrived" on the stage, decided to look about her for new worlds to conquer, and very naturally hit on motion pictures as a new and worthy medium of self-expression.

It is with the Harry Garson Productions that Miss Price has made up her mind to cast her lot, and her first big lead will be in "Charge It," work on which will be commenced shortly at the Garson studios in Glendale. It is understood she is to be cast for other big roles with the same company.

Miss Price was formerly with David Belasco in the original production of Winchell Smith's and Victor Mapes's play, "The Boomerang," and when the Selwyns presented Jane Cowl in "Lilac Time" they placed Miss Price under a three-year contract with the privilege of slaving in the New York and Fort Lee studios in her spare moments.

Last season Miss Price was with Comstock and Gest in "Adam and Eva."

Her picture work includes appearances in support of Dorothy Dalton, Justine Johnson, Alice Brady and others.

—o—

Mermaid Comedies Complete.

Gosh, our laugh supply isn't going to be cut down, anyhow—no matter what happens to the supplies of coal and food.

The Hamilton-White combine, working at the Astra studios, Glendale, has just finished two comedies, entitled "April Fool" and "Luck," both Mermaid pictures. Ham Hamilton is the star of both of these.

—o—

Famous Artist Here.

If Hollywood doesn't become the very center of art and culture it won't be the fault of the motion pictures. Hardly a day passes that some famous person doesn't arrive to give an upward heave to art by contributing something to the pictures.

Now it's Leon Bracker, hailed by critics as one of the world's leading poster artists, who is going to help advertise Allen Holubar's "Man, Woman, Marriage" with a series of seven posters.

But Mr. Bracker isn't going to make his contributions coldly by correspondence. Instead, he arrives in town today to confer with Mr. Holubar in regard to the posters. Dorothy Phillips, star of the picture, will, of course, be the main subject, though others of the cast, including James Kirkwood, Shannon Day and Robert Kain, also will be featured.

Screen Play to Stage.

Turn about is fair play, and it does begin to seem to some people as if it's about time that the tables were turned in the matter of the screen's going to the stage for material. Anyhow that's what Jesse Lasky thinks. So when Avery Hopwood's story, "The Little Clown," which Mary Miles Minter is making for Realart, is completed, Oliver Morosco is going to turn right around and put the play on the stage.

While Miss Minter is precisely suited to the role, yet, because she is tied up with Realart, she cannot appear in the stage version.

The young woman who will have the star role is none other than Ida St. Leon, who created a furore in New York in "Mamma's Affair." In private life Miss St. Leon is the wife of a well-known business man of this city.

Whether "The Little Clown" will be made here or in New York is not yet decided.

Behans Leave.

And now New York may just as well be warned to put her best foot forward. For she's to be visited shortly by no less persons than George Behan, Mrs. Behan and little "Bob White" Behan. Popper Beban is going on ahead, starting today, accompanied by Sol Lesser, and bearing a precious little tin box in which reposes the film of "Oge Man in a Million," on which he has been at work for a year.

According to present plans, the Bebans will desert their pretty Hollywood home for about six weeks, inasmuch as they are anxious to view all the New York shows, not to mention Mrs. Beban's wanting to take in the New York shops.

Lesser and Beban will stop off at all of the principal cities en route, which will cause them to take about a fortnight to make the trip.

—o—

Ince Baptizes It.

The suspense is over at last. "Lying Lips" will be the release title of Thomas H. Ince's second big special for the Associate Producers, according to word sent out from the studio yesterday. "Lying Lips" co-stars House Peters and Florence Vidor. John Griffith Wray directed, and they do say the picture promises to be the most spectacular and dramatic production Mr. Ince has turned out in a long time.

Just while we think of it, "Lying Lips" includes a highly sensational and lavishly staged banquet and ball scene in which a bevy of mermaids, clothed almost exclusively in professional tails, splash about in a great pool of water in a fashion to leave no doubt of the popularity of the scene.

Bosworth to Fight Shark.

If a ten-foot shark, in perfect health and topnotch fighting trim will communicate with the Thomas H. Ince picture company, it will hear of something to its advantage. For it may become a movie actor. Mr. Ince is looking about for such a creature to take part in his current Bosworth picture, "Pearls and Pain." The shark is to be used in a number of thrilling underwater scenes, with Hobart Bosworth as antagonist.

Madge Bellamy, recently recruited from the ranks of Broadway beauties, will make her first appearance in this picture.

—o—

Marcus Loew is Host.

Marcus Loew left for San Francisco Sunday, whence he will return to New York. He gave a party to the Metro stars at the Alexandria on Saturday night, which was attended by all the luminaries. No casualties have so far been reported.

—o—

Sounds Reasonable.

It was out at the Chaplin studios yesterday, where a group of financiers was watching Carter De Haven and his wife film scenes for "The Girl in the Taxi," De Haven's next First National picture.

Suddenly the conversation developed into a discussion regarding the value of present-day money. One of the financiers to illustrate the point drew a silver dollar from his pocket and drawing the attention of the group to it, said: "I wonder if we all appreciate just what the meaning of this dollar is?"

"Certainly," spoke up Carter, "it means you have the price of an egg."

And the party moved on to the next point of interest.

—o—

Where, Oh, Where—

Boris has gone right out of Shirley Mason's life. Boris is a big wolfhound belonging to the Fox star. He trotted away from the studio and has failed to return. So if you should chance on a wolfhound wearing white and tan markings, a brand-new brown leather collar, and a stern expression, it's probably Boris, and Miss Mason will be much obliged if you'll let her know.

—o—

Nigel Barrie Busy.

Nigel Barrie, one of filmdom's handsomest leading men, will make the third corner of the all-star triangle for the Metro production of "What Is the Matter with Marriage?" a romantic story upon which production will start at the West Coast studios in a week. Milton Sills and Ora Carewe will have the other stellar roles. Dallas Fitzgerald will direct.

—o—

Browning to Film Shocker.

Tod Browning is going to New York to shop for plays as soon as he finishes cutting Priscilla Dean's latest starring vehicle, directed by him, and called "Outside the Law."

And they do say that if Carl Laemmle will let him do it Mr. Browning is hoping to filmize that novel shocker entitled "Dracula," by Bram Stoker.

—o—

Buster's Pa.

You never can tell, can you, when it comes to matching up relatives? Take Buster Keaton, for instance, whose latest two-reeler, "Convict 13," is showing at the Rialto. The picture was being screened for some exhibitors the other day.

"I enjoyed it thoroughly," one of them said to Buster. "The only fault I find is that the actor who portrayed the part of your father didn't look the character. It would have been better if you had got hold of one who really looked the part."

"That's funny," replied Buster. "That man has been playing my father for twenty-four years."

"How's that?"

"He married my mother twenty-six years ago."

—o—

Anita Stewart Soon.

Anita Stewart's vacation is about over. She's got to don the grease paint very soon again in order to carry out her contract with Louis B. Mayer and with First National. And the first picture she will make will be a film version of a story by Jane Murfin, author of "Lilac Time."

She is expected to return to California within a month's time, together with her husband-manager, Rudey Cameron.

—o—

"John Ferguson" Attracts.

Frank Keenan And the Wilkes Stock Company began the second week of the St. John Ervine drama, "John Ferguson," Sunday night at the Majestic Theater. Interest has in no way abated in this remarkable play and the indications are that it will enjoy a successful run.

A new member of the Wilkes players made her first appearance last night in the person of Miss Mildred Southwick, who has the part of Hannah Ferguson, which Miss Evelyn Varden previously filled. Miss Southwick showed ability in her emotional scene. Probably no play ever afforded Frank Keenan a better opportunity, and his portrayal is very real. Edward Everett Horton gives a finished performance, while Franklin Pangborn, Fred F. Cummings, Marie Curtis and other members of the cast are convincing.

Glimpses Bird Life.

D. W. Griffith's fidelity to detail is one of the notable things about his productions. In "Way Down East," now showing at Philharmonic Auditorium, one special bit that attracts much interest in the incident showing a bird alighting on her nest to feed her young ones.

Time after time it was necessary during the filming to approach the nest with a camera and to turn the crank so that the clicking noise as the machine was set in motion should gradually cease to frighten the bird. Finally, when the bird had become accustomed to the sound, the picture was made.

Opera Story Plays On.

"Mother, I'm getting so sick of this humdrum life. If only I could go away and make something of myself!" How many mothers haven't heard from the lips of their daughters these very words, prompted by dissatisfaction or the restlessness that accompanies ambition? In the instance of Aurora Meredith, interpreted by Dorothy Phillips in "Once to Every Woman," playing to capacity houses at the Superba Theater, in its second and closing week, the cry for a change was born because she was blessed with a beautiful voice.

The musical world of the continent later bowed to her, and when she makes her debut in her own country, New York, musical homage was again paid her. Inevitably a reversal of fortune came, however, which made her realize the true values of life.

STUDIO ANNIVERSARY.

Christie studios are to celebrate their ninth anniversary today. Prizes are to be given, it is announced, to the couple in the city of Los Angeles which has spent the longest period of domestic life together, and also to the couple right in the moving picture profession who can qualify with the greatest number of years of happy marital bliss. The committee in charge is composed of G. G. Greenwood, of the Security Trust and Savings Ban, Mrs. H. P. Wright of the Hollywood Woman's Club, and James B. Irsfeld, of the Board of Trade.

"THE MOLLUSC."

COMMUNITY PLAYERS PRESENT COMEDY SATIRE.

By Edwin Schallert.

If you are looking for a nice name to apply to your worst enemy, who at the same time may be your most intimate friend, why you may possibly discover it in the title of the present offering of the Hollywood Community Theater, after you have seen the play. People who take everything and give nothing nearly always fall within the classification mentioned, and it is just as well to give them a zoological name as any.

Hubert Henry Davies has described them as cleverly as necessary in his three-act comedy, "The Mollusc," in which a select cast of stage and picture people are appearing under Miss Nelly Dickson's direction at the Ivar-street playhouse.

A mollusc, Mr. Davies would have us know, at the start of his very pleasant satire, is a creature who clings to the rocks undisturbed by the tide which passes over it; it will use all its energy and ingenuity in sticking instead of moving.

The picture he shows us is of a woman in an English household who is a little better than a hypochondriac and a little worse. By persuasion, cajolery, wailing, she manages to have everybody wait on her, and even the effort of causing this to be wearies her. She is better than a hypochondriac, because she is more clever; she is worse, because she knows she is clever.

While the play sketches an exaggerated type, there is something in Mr. Davies's thought for everybody, because susceptibility to mollusery is in everybody's biological structure.

Really, therefore, there is nothing about the play's plot or his people that is fishy despite the title. Nearly everybody can mention some mollusc he has known.

The style of the piece is light and though it moves along the somewhat stilted British manner at times, the lines are a bright revelation of gayety and humor.

The cost is as small as in "Tea for Three" or other plays of like quality. Cleo Madison has the role of Mrs. Baxter, who clings instead of moving. She succeeds in weaving the colors of her personality into the pattern of the character so that the finished design produces a vivid impression.

Wilfred Lucas was an especial delight in his convincing stage manner and a natural easy comedy method as the brother who seeks to reform his "molluscing" sister. Mabel Julienne Scott brings her attractive personality and extended stock experience to the role of the governess, giving a competent and well-repressed interpretation. Richard Tucker, who was last seen here on the stage in "Under Orders," is convincing as the husband.

The present community production has a pleasant originality of theme, well embellished, and is excellently played.

LIFE'S GRAY MISTS IN "DARK LANTERN."

Life is a serious proposition, after all. There isn't much joy in it, and in the course of true love, the lover encounters many bumps and lars.

You'll get some idea of the somber grayish mist that envelopes everything we do from "The Dark Lantern," Alice Brady's current production, being shown at the Symphony this week.

Our heroine spends most of her time being unhappy. She's in love—she knows that much—but the great question is, with whom? Is it the handsome, smooth-tongued prince of Arzovinia (here's that inevitable mythical country in Europe again—the war should have wiped 'em all out,) or is it the cynical young doctor who is attending her father? She rather thinks it is the former—but you and I know enough about photoplays to realize that the heroine seldom thinks right the first time.

Most villains overdo themselves. They seem to take pride in the fact that they are villains.

But in this picture we have the extreme. The prince is nice and quiet; at times he almost fools us.

In fact, the only sure way we have of telling that he is the villain, is that the heroine likes him so well.

But all motion-pictures have a way of turning out all right in the end. Far be it from Realart to disappoint a waiting public.

Perhaps it's because of being contrasted with "The Dark Lantern" that "Chase Me" seems so unusually funny, there's a slight chance that it really is better than usual. Anyway, you'll get some real laughs from this latest Fox comedy, which, as the name justly implies, is one of the famous slapstick pursuits.

"Shadows of West" Stays.

Large crowds at every performance have ushered in the second week of "Shadows of the West" at the Garrick Theater.

A love story, with Hedda Nova and Pat O'Brien as the principals, has been woven into the propaganda plot, making the alleged "peep behind the scenes of the yellow man's activities" highly interesting.

WILBUR SCORES COURTS' CRITICS.

Jurist Hits at the "Movement for Better Judges."

Says Charges It Makes Are Many Times Untrue.

Bar Association Honors the Supreme Justices.

The pamphlet attacking certain Superior judges issued by the Movement for Better Judges came in for severe criticism last night by Justice Curtis D. Wilbur of the State Supreme Court, speaking at the semi-annual meeting and dinner of the Los Angeles Bar Association in the ballroom of the Alexandria. Justice Wilbur declared that many of the statements made in the pamphlet are untrue and scandalous and that the statements should be repudiated by the bar.

Oscar Lawler, one of the trustees of the association, told the diners that the Los Angeles Bar Association was not behind the movement known as the "Movement for Better Judges." He said that he knew nothing of the personnel of the association and believed it too partisan an affair for the Bar Association to concern itself with. He declared that he had not advocated the election of any man to the bench, and believed that any attorney who did advocate the choice of a judge should be guided only by the best motives and not by personal prejudices.

The dinner was given in honor of the Justices of the Supreme Court now sitting in this city.

H. W. O'Melveny addressed the meeting and urged the members of the association to support Amendment 3 to be voted on at the coming election. This amendment provides for the increase of salary for Justices of the Supreme Court from $8000 per year to $10,000. Mr. O'Melveny declared that the Supreme Court requires the best men in the State, and the increase in salary is really not sufficient to warrant the years of study and attention. The amendment also provides for increasing the salaries of the justices of the District Court of Appeals from $7000 to $9000. At the close of the address the Bar Association unanimously adopted a resolution approving of the amendment and requesting the voters to support it.

Herbert J. Goudge made an interesting talk on "Ideals." He said what is usually meant by ideals as they are professed, or held, by idealist; they are intellectual conceptions of objects or ends and of excellence which impart to the persons who entertain them, a feeling of outlook, uplift, gratification and especially of novelty.

Jefferson P. Chandler talked on "The Unlawful Practice of Law" and explained that no other State except Missouri had a definition of the practice of law in their statute, and that most States conceived the unlawful practice of law to be the practice, the giving of legal advice, by others than certified attorneys, for compensation. Mr. Chandler objected to the frequent use of "compensation" and believed the unlawful practice of law should also be defined as the giving of legal advice, except by competent attorneys, whether with or without compensation. Mr. Chandler declared attorneys are opposed to the giving of legal advice by others, not alone for selfish reasons, but also because they believe the best interests of those in need of legal advice can best be secured by men learned and trained in the law.

MRS. PEETE IS UNDER ARREST.

office in person. She then telephoned several times and made an appointment to meet Mr. Peete at Mr. Ford's office Monday afternoon. When Mr. Peete arrived he was greeted by detectives, and Mrs. Peete apparently foreseeing what was in store for her, decided to use the telephone again. An appointment was made to meet at the home of Mr. Ford. When Mrs. Peete arrived in the vicinity of the house she saw a "large reception committee" and decided to call again some other time. In the "reception committee" were Detectives Jones, Canto and Hickok and other persons. Mrs. Peete was trying to avoid, she told Mr. Ford yesterday morning. So she just turned around and went downtown, where she enjoyed "a night of adventures," to use Mr. Ford's words, and retired to a room at a downtown hotel, from where she called Mr. Ford yesterday morning and made an appointment to meet him later on. From this appointment grew the plan that resulted in the meeting with Mr. Woolwine.

QUADRUPLE GUARD.

When Mr. Woolwine arrived at the Ford home, he at once told Mrs. Peete that she would be guarded from that moment on. Mrs. Peete tried to look pleasant, but succeeded only partly in hiding her annoyance and nervousness. The big county machine rolled toward La Crescenta at a leisurely pace, followed by an automobile load of reporters and photographers. Just outside the hotel grounds was Detective Smith of Mr. Woolwine's office, to warn the official party of the fact that the newspaper car arrived ahead of them. Mrs. Peete was whirled up to the back entrance, and rushed into the house ahead of anyone else. Mr. Ford and Mr. Van Nostrand remained outside while Mr. Woolwine completed the arrangements for guarding Mrs. Peete. These arrangements consisted of placing Detectives Smith, Contreras and Crist and Miss Hal Bland in touch with the situation. Later Mr. Woolwine said one officer is to remain awake, in front of the door, another outside the window, a third one to patrol the grounds, and Miss Bland to remain in the room with Mrs. Peete constantly. Having made it plain that Mrs. Peete is not to go on any more unchaperoned trips without the knowledge of the District Attorney's office, Mr. Woolwine departed, and joined Deputies Doran and Turney, who prepared the case, in a conference at the Hall of Records.

MAY NOT DRIVE AUTO FOR NEXT FIVE YEARS.

C. J. Fowler, convicted by a jury on a charge of manslaughter because of the death in an automobile accident of Armida Vasquez, aged 5, was granted probation of five years yesterday by Judge Willis. The jury in the verdict recommended leniency. The terms of Fowler's probation include the condition that he should not drive an ambulance, which he was doing at the time of the accident, nor any other automobile, for five years.

REMEMBER

The proposed Alien Land Law is not a Japanese Exclusion Act. It has nothing whatever to do with emigration. It provides that it will be unlawful for Japanese to rent land. Present laws provide that they cannot own it and only permit a three years lease. It drives the Japanese from their gardens.

Laws of Japan

permit a corporation, though composed entirely of non-Japanese, to buy and own land in fee. They also allow alien individuals to lease land of any kind for fifty years. Yet Initiative No. 1 denies this reciprocal right to a handful of Japanese in California.

OUR POSITION

In view of the fact that the presence of large numbers of Orientals in certain parts of our country has given rise to serious problems we believe that further immigration from that source would surely endanger the good relations existing between the United States and our Oriental neighbors. It is evident to all that the time has come when a satisfactory control of immigration must be sought.

The governments of the United States and Japan are now seriously seeking a final settlement of all problems arising out of the immigration situation. This fact is exceedingly encouraging and gives promise of bringing to a peaceful end a vexatious and delicate international matter. If it is left in the hands of diplomacy there is every reason to believe that all dangers of misunderstanding will be avoided and a mutually agreeable settlement reached speedily.

The so-called Japanese problem cannot be settled by the action of one or several states, as it is essentially a matter of immigration. The experience of the last few years fully bears this out. Therefore, any such action by California at the present time will surely result only in further complicating the situation, confusing the issue, and making Federal action more difficult. ¶ We, therefore, strongly advise voters to leave the question wholly in the hands of the Federal government, at least until every opportunity has been given to reach a conclusion.

POLITICS.

THE WATCHMAN.

TREND OF POLITICAL THOUGHT AND ACTION.

By the Sentry on His Beat.

Rudolph Spreckels, the San Francisco banker, whose occasional forays into State and national politics in the past have resulted in about a fifty-fifty leaven of discomfort for his friends and sport for the enemy, is responsible, I am told, for a deluge of campaign circulars which have recently come to Los Angeles business men purporting to favor Senator Phelan's candidacy for re-election. Mr. Spreckels pretends great alarm over the prospect of California sending Samuel M. Shortridge to the Senate to succeed the Democratic incumbent, and appears to agree that such a swap is impending. He would disqualify Mr. Shortridge because, as the San Francisco banker alleges, he was once approached to give Abe Ruef, of Bay City graft fame, legal counsel for a fee. How much Mr. Shortridge got for his alleged service—if, indeed, he got anything—I am not aware, for Mr. Spreckels fails to supply that information; but in his eyes the mere giving of a legal opinion to a man in the toils constitutes high treason. And on this theory he would have none of Mr. Shortridge.

I am not sure but what Mr. Spreckels in this instance is not thinking to strike at his distinguished brother(John D. Spreckels of San Diego, with whom he split years ago over the famous Claus Spreckels will fight, more than to aid Senator Phelan or to hurt Mr. Shortridge. John D. Spreckels is one of Mr. Shortridge's strongest supporters in Southern California, and party through his interest the Republican candidate won a notable victory in the primary contest in San Diego county. Recalling that Rudolph Spreckels's friends speak of him as a long-distance hater with not much regard for the finer discriminations, I am inclined to think that the distribution of this circular is another illustration of how an overwrought political loser may seize a fancied opportunity to employ a foil to do his real hurt. Of course it is not a nice thing to turn a family feud into a political weapon, but sometimes it is done when bitterness runs away with judgment.

"Randall is as good as beaten" is the sentiment I hear on all sides in seeking from day to day to get the low down on the situation in the Ninth Congress District. From a successful, well-thought of business man without political pretensions six months ago to the strongest candidate the Republicans have developed in that district in years, is the record of Charles F. Van de Water's campaign. Personally I believe he will be elected, as he deserves to be, and I believe this impression now prevails rather generally throughout his district. I am advising Mr. Van de Water's organization to keep up their good work until the final gun. With Randall manifestly on the run and his managers in desperate straights to find anything like plausible ammunition to support his candidacy, Mr. Van de Water should have no trouble in clinching the necessary vote in the final hours.

Supervisor Bean, who is up for re-election in the Second District, is scheduled for a number of addresses between today and November 2. This evening he will speak at the Immanuel Presbyterian Church on the humanitarian side of the work of the County Supervisors through the Public Welfare Committee, of which Supervisor Bean is chairman. Yesterday he addressed the Boyle Heights Women's Club, explaining the county's tax system with reference to how the money collected through taxation is applied to the maintenance of county institutions and public projects. Another address was made by the Supervisor to the congregation of the Baptist Church at Maple avenue and Seventh street. Bean's candidacy is in general favor and it is expected that he will be re-elected without serious difficulty.

Los Angeles business men have formed a volunteer organization in the interest of Walton J. Wood's candidacy for judge of the Superior Court. His active workers include Harry L. Weisbaum, H. B. Woodill, E. Golding, Edward I. Brent, Meyer Seigel, J. A. Kingsley, O. Granicher, Bryant Bathews, J. J. Jenkins, E. A. Talbot, D. J. Brownstein, J. G. Warren, Leo V. Starr, John H. Gage, L. M. Barker, W. G. Cline, Arthur Bent, Roy C. Seeley, J. A. Bauer, Dean William MacCormack, J. J. Warrick, John P. Whitmore, David A. Vail, N. Ledgerwood, Walter L. Krug, Fred H. Hammet, Dr. A. J. Scott, Dr. J. V. Barrow, Wheaton A. Gray, W. Joseph Ford, Douglas Edmonds, Gesner Williams, Col. A. J. Copp, C. E. Miller, George W. Adams, Paul M. Meyer.

Rev. Ernest E. Day, pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church of Whittier, has written to John C. Bell of the Southern California Prohibition Committee, taking Congressman Randall, Democratic-Prohibition candidate in the Ninth District, severely to task for his adverse votes in Congress on patriotic measures during the war. The communication in part follows:

"I am now, and have been for some months doing all in my humble power to defeat Mr. Randall's return to Congress, and I hope to continue my efforts until that gentleman is elected to remain at home. I consider Mr. Randall's opponent, Mr. Van de Water, a gentleman far superior to Mr. Randall intellectually, full as staunch in standing for every principle in prohibition, and far more likely in the coming session of Congress, which promises almost surely to be overwhelmingly Republican, to be of real assistance in retaining the Volstead law, and in promoting the material and moral interests of Southern California and the entire country. I grant that Mr. Randall has done all that a man of his ability could do in the cause of prohibition—no more, however, than Mr. Van de Water would have done. I grant that the record of the two men as regards the fight for prohibition is about equal, with Mr. Van de Water having the best of it by a shade.

"I opposed Mr. Randall for his shameful record at the time of the war. Not once, nor twice, but constantly he opposed the measures which alone as events proved could keep the world from complete disaster. Europe was burning up, and Mr. Randall said: 'Let her burn.' He will not live long enough to escape the stigma placed by loyal citizens who examined his war record. I had correspondence with him, and will say that his explanations of his course were only a bit less shameful than his deeds. It is evident from the tactics adopted by his supporters that he sees the handwriting on the wall. I hope that he will be relegated, as have most of the coterie of willful obstructionists, to the oblivion he deserves."

Harry Lyons, who captured the Republican nomination for the Assembly from the Sixty-fourth District, is lining up his support in fine shape, and I believe he will go over without trouble. The recent attempt to start a movement to write in a name to beat Lyons at the election seems to have flivvered out, as was expected.

FINE SHOWING TO ENGINEERS.

Harbor Board Head Believes Federal Men Impressed.

Proof of Port Needs Likely to Bring Wanted Cash.

Basin and Channel Dredging Safe, Thinks Griffin.

"I believe that Los Angeles citizens, shippers and transportation men made a favorable impression on the Federal engineers," said President Gordon of the Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday afternoon following a hearing given by the visiting officials from Washington at the rooms of the Harbor Commission, "and I have no reason to believe that an unfavorable report will be made resulting in the Rivers and Harbors Committee of Congress withholding further immediate appropriations for Los Angeles Harbor development.

"For six years harbor development work stopped on account of the war and because of lack of funds. One year ago today we had five lines of steamers docking at Los Angeles Harbor. Today we have here or asking for space here thirty lines, and I am confident that the engineers were convinced that Los Angeles Harbor is rapidly becoming one of the great ports of the country."

Harbor Engineer Griffin said: "I believe that the engineers will report favorably on all proposed dredging operations for the improvement of the west and east basins and for the deepening of the main channel. It may be too much to expect for the present an appropriation for the extension of the breakwater to the entrance to Long Beach. I believed that the engineers were impressed with the tremendous progress made at the harbor during the past year, and I am convinced that the $150,000 appropriation for the widening of the channel will not be endangered by any delay over the ratification of the Salt Lake agreement until the city is completely protected."

The board of engineers, of which Brig.-Gen. Harry Taylor is the ranking officer, left last night for San Diego. They will spend tomorrow in Los Angeles and then leave for Washington.

than outright thievery. Instances of this kind are always present in all lines of business endeavor, but, happily, while they attract a great deal of attention, they are not characteristic, as a rule, of the main situation.

The average landlord deserves only a reasonable increase in rent and, as a matter of fact, is entitled to it, should receive it, and in receiving it this public welfare is, as has been pointed out in the foregoing discussion, advanced. No word, however, can be uttered in behalf of the occasional extortionate landlord of the relentless type, who is simply seizing the opportunity to perpetrate robbery under the mask of legal permission and economic necessity.

HEALTH BOARD TO MEET

A special meeting of the California State Board of Health will be held in room D of the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

This meeting has been called for the purpose of giving a hearing to the many important agricultural interests that may be affected through the possible passage of the anti-vivisection initiative measure No. 7. Among the interests to be represented are the breeders of cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry as well as of the citrus and deciduous fruit industries.

Representatives of the State and Federal departments of agriculture (bureaus of animal industry and goods and drugs) will be present to take part in the discussions. Representatives of the California Cattlemen's Association, hog breeders associations and poultrymen's organizations will also be present to take part in the discussions. The University of California (college of agriculture) will have a representative at the meeting, as will the State Department of Agriculture, of which department G. H. Hecke is the director.

TO STAND OR FALL.

Lever Law Defendants Mark Time Until Court Decision Comes.

A stipulation was entered into yesterday between U. S. Atty. O'Connor and Jud R. Rush, representing the railroad strikers who were convicted for violation of the Lever law, in the spring of 1919, by engaging in what is known as the outlaw switchmen's strike, allowing the five men until December 1 to pay the fine of $1000 each assessed against them by U. S. District Judge Bledsoe. The defendants affected by the order are A. N. Miller, Oscar T. Lefever, Ray Kanaga, Clyde H. Isrigg and William G. Fannon.

It is believed that by that time there will be a decision of the United States Supreme Court on the question of the constitutionality of the Lever law. If it is pronounced constitutional, no appeal will be taken, for the defendants have elected to stand on the constitutionality of the Lever law. If it is pronounced valid there will be nothing on which they could base an appeal.

LAWYER'S TRIAL POSTPONED.

Upon the request of the defendant, the trial of Earl Rogers, noted criminal lawyer, accused of assault with intent to murder Deputy Sheriff Couts, was continued yesterday by Judge Willis until December 24. Guy Eddie appeared for the defendant and requested the continuance. Rogers was accused of trying to shoot Deputy Couts on April 3 while the officer was taking him into custody for a hearing on a charge of use of excessive stimulants. This charge has already been tried and the case was won by Rogers.

Essential Nature
Equipment
An Equipment Bond is regarded by bankers as one of the safest forms of investment. Such a bond is a direct lien on the rolling stock of a railroad company or upon the ships of a company operating ocean transportation lines, and is usually issued to finance the purchase of new equipment.
Title to the cars, locomotives or ships is in most occasions vested in the trustee for the bond holders, and the loan is reduced through serial installments or payment of earnings into sinking funds.
Without its equipment, no railroad or steamship company could operate. The equipment is such a vital factor in the earnings of the company that it is kept in the best working condition. Ample insurance features are provided to fully protect the bondholder against physical loss of security.
Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company First Lien 10-year Marine Equipment 7% Convertible Gold Bonds afford an attractive investment of this character. Price, 94½ and interest to yield 7.80% on the investment.

DAILY TRADE TALK.

Tungsten Mining in California May Come Back; Business News.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Production of tungsten is a California industry which formerly added to the wealth of the State; an industry in which many Los Angeles men, and considerable local capital are interested.

Accordingly it was a matter of some interest and not a little comment when inquiry was made yesterday through a Los Angeles broker for a carload of tungsten concentrates.

The inquiry came from a big steel company, and was in line with an article appearing in The Times of Sunday that production in the steel and iron industry showed unmistakable signs of returning to a pre-war basis.

Rehabilitation of this mining industry would mean much to California for with the ending of the war it was abandoned as unprofitable because of large importations of the concentrates from South America and China. An effort was made to preserve the industry by establishing a duty of $10 per unit for the protection of American producers, but the bill failed to get through the Senate.

At the beginning of the war tungsten sold as high as $105 a unit, and there was a liberal demand at profitable figures during the conflict. The present inquiry, which comes from Pittsburg, indicates that in spite of the foreign competition, increased demand is likely to result in a re-establishment of the Californian production.

The tungsten mine at Atolia is said to be the world's largest producer, while the properties of the United Tungsten Copper mines in the San Bernardino Mountains are capable of turning out a high-grade of scheelite concentrates. These, and other California mines, will afford employment to a large number of men as soon as the market comes back, and reasonable protection is afforded American producers.

ALFALFA MARKET.

The tone of the alfalfa market shows a marked improvement this week, according to A. F. Thornton, manager of the Alfalfa Growers of California, the result of a stronger demand on one hand and moderate offerings on the other.

The striking feature of the present situation is the small supplies in the hands of dealers and users, which is bound to keep them in the market.

Secretary Meredith told the bankers in their recent convention that the marketing problem is the greatest one now before the public and urged the banks to assist co-operative farmers' enterprises.

Mr. Thornton says that the farmers are not altogether clear on the meaning of the term "deflation" which is being so freely used by the bankers. "It strikes is," he said, "that it cannot be anything else but what it looks, feels and tastes like, and that is demoralization of prices. If we are to believe that this leads to return of normal conditions and prosperity, then we must also believe that black is white." His theory is that the farmer must protect himself through co-operative organization such as the one of which he is the head.

Approximately 300 tons of hay of all kinds were received on the Los Angeles tracks for the week ending October 23 with 200 tons held over as against 700 tons the week before. Southern California quotations are $27 per ton for fancy dairy alfalfa; $29 for No. 1 dairy alfalfa; $25 for standard dairy, and $22 for stock alfalfa.

LOS ANGELES STOCKS.

The market yesterday was somewhat narrower and of lesser volume than the bumper proceedings of Monday. Oils were weaker. Mines were somewhat irregular with Tom Reed averaging a point off, and United Eastern two points and a half up. Virginia Louise was a good trader, selling up to 37 cents, from which it reacted to an close of 34. Industrials were stronger, the sugars, Goodyear, Edison and Los Angeles Investment, each advancing to a higher level than that of Monday. There was no change in the market for Libertias, and transactions in this division were not heavy.

NEW PRODUCTION.

The Sinclair Oil Co., was reported yesterday to have brought in another Mexican well, with an estimated flow of 80,000 barrels daily. The Texas Company has completed a well in the Blueridge field. Ford Bend county, Texas, which is reported flowing between 4000 and 5000 barrels daily.

GOODYEAR FINANCING.

Advices from New York yesterday asserted that the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company has solved its financial problems by negotiating a temporary loan of $10,000,000 from New York and Chicago banks and investment houses. This will be funded, it is said, into a long term obligation in the shape of ten-year notes, as soon as the credits can be worked over. This financing does not affect the California company, and information concerning it will be released through the home office, at Akron.

JUNIOR ORPHEUM.

E. H. Rollins and Sons, and Girvin and Miller, are offering a new issue of $1,000,000 first mortgage, 7 per cent gold bonds of the Junior Orpheum of San Francisco.

The bonds are guaranteed both as to principal and interest by the Orpheum Theater and Realty Company, and security is afforded by a first mortgage upon a lot at the corner of Taylor street and Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco, of about 24,750 square feet, appraised at $750,000, and also upon the seven-story class A theater and office building to be erected upon the property at a cost of over $1,000,000. It is said that the value of the lot, and the cost of the building will not be less than 167 per-cent of the bond issue.

It is estimated that the net income from the theater and offices will be about six times the annual interest charges on this bond issue.

The Junior Orpheum will operate a vaudeville theater, upon which the net income will amount to about $400,000 per year, while it is estimated that the income from rentals will be about $54,000 per year. The bonds are to be sold at par, and accrued interest.

CONEMAUGH POWER.

A new issue, consisting of $2,750,000, Conemaugh Power Company closed first mortgage, ten-year, 8 per cent gold bonds, is being offered by E. H. Rollins and Sons. The bonds are guaranteed both as to principal and interest by the Penn Public Service Corporation, the Conemaugh Power Company having been formed for the purpose of generating additional power for the parent organization.

These bonds will be secured by a direct mortgage on the company's new power plant, which will cost about $4,500,000. The earnings of the Penn Public Service Corporation available for the purpose of redeeming the guarantee of the payment of interest on this issue are over 2½ times the amount required. The bonds will be sold at 99, and interest, to yield over 8.15 per cent.

BRITISH COLUMBIA SIXES.

A syndicate composed of Carstens & Earles, Incorporated, Girvin & Miller, Seattle National Bank, Lumbermans' Trust Company of Portland and Ferris & Hardgrove of Spokane, are offering a new issue of $1,000,000, Province of British Columbia (Canada) 6 per cent, ten-year bonds on a basis of 7.30 per cent. Carstens & Earles, Incorporated, is the manager of the underwriting syndicate.

These bonds are payable, both principal and interest, in United States gold coin, at New York. They constitute a general obligation of the entire Province of British Columbia, which has an assessed valuation of over $800,000,000, against which there is a net debt, including this issue, of approximately $36,000,000.

OUR LUXURY BILL.

Men and women in the United States spend as much every year in the gratification of personal taste and vanity, as the national debt amounts to.

The women spend for cosmetics, rouge, face powders and perfumery, $750,000,000, or at the rate of $2,000,000 for every day in the year. Jewelry sales amount to $500,000,000 and furs, $300,000,000.

The men spend $300,000,000 for cigarettes, and $510,000,000 for cigars, while both sexes disburse $50,000,000 for chewing gum, $250,000,000 for ice cream, $350,000,000 for soft drinks, and $1,000,000 for candy.

Total for the year is more than $22,000,000,000.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS.

Trade Talk is in receipt of several inquires concerning stock selling companies, which have sprung up in Los Angeles recently. Many of these organizations are without responsibility, and make extravagant claims. They put out flamboyant advertising circulars, reaching a selected sucker list. These are followed by mimeographed letters with the name and address typed in. Usually a glib salesman uses the telephone. Sometimes he makes personal calls.

The telephone and the visit are, of couse, legitimate means of salesmanship, used by legitimate companies. Therein lies much of the danger. A fly by night will adopt a name euphonious to some well-established investment house. Usually they cite large profits made by a great corporation, and point out the possibili-

STEADY TONE RULES ON PRODUCE MARKET.

TOMATOES AGAIN RULE WEAK AND LOWER; POTATOES ARE UNCHANGED.

Prices for nearly all lines of fruits and vegetables ruled firm and unchanged on the local produce market yesterday. Demand and movement were active throughout the session, and the country offerings, of which supplies were liberal, were readily absorbed by the trade at the ruling prices of the preceding day. Tomatoes continued very weak, again showing a decline of 10 cents per lug under a sluggish demand. On the shipping manager prices for this commodity were unchanged. Although a light spot inquiry was reported, and the movement was very slow. Cranberries took a slight downward turn yesterday, the Early Blacks selling at a decline of about 25 cents per barrel.

Grapes were stronger yesterday. The supplies during the past few days have been very light, and the demand yesterday was active with the result that offerings of good quality were selling at an advance of about 1 cent per pound.

Potatoes remained firm and unchanged at Monday's level, despite the fact that receipts since Saturday have been increasing. Prices yesterday ranged from $2.25 to $2.75, but the majority of the stock was bringing about $2.50 per sack. In the carlot market there was no change, sales ranging all the way from $1.85 per sack for the poorer grades to $2.35 for the extra fancy stock. Idaho Russets are increasing in supply, but the market is firm, the stock bringing from $2.25 to $2.35 per sack. Cauliflower was again dull and weak in the shipping market, with few sales reported.

its significance.

Mail order houses, called sometimes catalog houses, are those the bulk of whose business is received by mail through the use of catalogs, periodical and direct-by-mail advertising.

At first, rural and small town communities, imperfectly served by local stores, constituted the principal field for a mail business. The mail order house offered a wide variety of goods and articles not obtained locally. New wants were thus created.

Lately, however, mail order houses have been getting a goodly share of city and suburban business. Where immediate delivery was not required, people found it more convenient to shop by mail.

One of the pioneers in the mail order idea is Sears, Roebuck & Co., and in this institution mail order selling has been developed to its highest degree.

Some notion of the immensity of the business of this company is gained from the fact that 25% of the families of the United States buy goods from Sears, Roebuck & Co. This one company is said to do two-thirds of the exclusive mail business of the country.

Judging by the way the Company holds its customers, evidenced by the large percentage of repeat orders, it is serving a sound and useful purpose which is necessary for its stable prosperity.

Decide today to invest in Sears, Roebuck & Co. 7% Serial Gold Notes. Price to yield from 7.85% to 7.60% according to maturity. Notes mature 1921, 1922 and 1923.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Trading in stocks today was professional and restricted, the languid movement being governed almost entirely by monetary conditions. Signs in that quarter pointed to continued tightening of demand and time loans.

Call money opened at 9 per cent and rose to 10 per cent later, but the withdrawal of almost $30,000,000 from local banks for Federal requirements caused no unsettlement.

Trade authorities reported additional curtailment of pig iron production and motor specialties reflected further sharp cuts in prices of tires.

The most noteworthy incident of the day—the third quarterly report of the United States Steel Corporation—did not come until after the close of the session. The total earnings, aggregating slightly over $48,000,000, an increase of almost $4,900,000 over the previous period, were in line with most forecasts. Analysis of the statement, however, taking earnings by months, offered further proof that the consumers are holding off in anticipation of a downward revision of price schedules before the end of the year.

Specialties were the heavy features of the stock list, the usual favorites among industrials and rails registering nominal changes for the most part. United States Steel was a case in point, gaining the smallest fraction. Total sales amounted to 400,000 shares.

Trading in bonds was irregular and featureless, a slight downward trend ruling. Total sales, par value, $12,200,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

COTTON IS STEADY AT OPENING.

Indian Cable Says Crop Will Show 2,000,000-Bale Decrease This Year.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Although 3 to 21 points lower the cotton market was barely steady at the opening. When Liverpool demand was supplied the decline became more pronounced and extended about 40 points net.

The New Orleans Cotton Exchange will be closed Monday, November 1, All Saints Day, also election day.

A private cable from Bombay says that present prospects point to an Indian cotton crop of 4,000,000 bales this season against 6,000,000 bales last season.

Wet weather map created some buying and the decline was checked around 40 to 50 points net lower. Rallies followed on covering and continued Liverpool buying with the market only 10 to 18 points off around midday.

Covering by early sellers for a reaction promoted an advance in the afternoon which extended 30 to 37 points.

How to make a Profit on Stocks
The investor who buys high grade listed securities carefully, with diversified groups, and holds them for permanent gain, is in position to make a liberal profit beyond dividend and yield.
What kind of stocks to buy, also how and when to buy them, is interestingly told in our book, just published, entitled "The Principles of Profitable Investment."
Its 64 pages tell you the vital things about the stock market—how to judge a security—how to make a profit on stocks.
It contains no "tips" on certain issues, and nothing for the man who wants to take a short cut to wealth, but deals with fundamentals. You should read it before investing. Write today. It's free. Dept. I.

Trades in Grain Broaden, With Wheat in Lead.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Trade in grains broadened with wheat well in the lead and prices were on the upgrade most of the day, the close being at nearly the outside, with gains of 10 cents on Wheat, 1⅛ to 2⅛ cents on corn, 1¼ to 1⅜ cents on oats, 5⅜ to 8¼ cents on rye and 4 cents on barley.

The impetus was the large export demand for wheat and corn.

Huge buying of wheat to cover short interests with a turning from the bear to the bull side of the market and heavy buying by houses with seaboard connections made a strong and advancing market for wheat with more outside trade. Prices moved up nearly 11 cents to $2.10¼ for December with the close ⅛ cent under the top.

Corn saw a better account of itself with the export buying and the advance in wheat a leading stimulant, which lifted the market out of the rut. Selling pressure was light except for a time at the opening and prices moved up from 80¼ to 82¼ cents for December with the close near the top. Strength in the cash market with prices 1 to 4 cents higher, premiums 1¾ cents higher and light receipts had a bullish influence.

Sellers of oats on Monday were buyers today, particularly at the opening when offerings were absorbed. Houses with eastern connections were good buyers and a better market was experienced with an advance of 1⅜ cents and closed at the top. Cash prices were sharply higher.

DECEMBER BARLEY IS UP $2 PER TON.

In sympathy with the sharp upward turn taken by barley in the San Francisco market yesterday, all shipments of this cereal moved upward to a higher close, despite the fact that little buying interest developed during the day. At the close of the call, track barley was 50 cents per ton higher, the ten-day shipment had made an advance of $1 per ton, and other nearby deliveries were $1.25 higher. In the future, months, the first half of November shipment advanced 50 cents per ton, all November moved up 75 cents per ton, and the December delivery was $2 higher. Milo displayed a firmer undertone, although there was a wide spread between prices, and no sales were made.

They find their letters in seven seconds!

IMPOSSIBLE as this sounds, it is daily occurrence in the offices of the Union Lithograph Company of Los Angeles.

The "Y and E" Direct Name Filing System is the reason for this amazing speed, and this particular office is no exception to the general rule.

Hundreds of offices equipped with this system were tested recently and the average time for finding or filing a letter was found to be under ten seconds!

If your filing department is not up to this standard let us tell you more about the "Y and E" Direct Name Filing System.

Ask for our new book, "Finding and Filing in Less than Ten Seconds."

WILL AUGMENT DRY LAW SQUAD.

Revenue Chief, Here, Plans Full Reorganization.

Scores Lax Enforcement of Anti-Liquor Statutes.

If the local violators of the Volstead law and the national prohibition amendment hug to their breasts the hallucination that there is to be any let-up on the part of the government agents to seek them out and secure their conviction and punishment, they will be disabused of that dream by statements made yesterday by Paul F. Myers, Assistant Internal Revenue Commissioner at Washington, who has made a special trip to San Francisco and this city to look over the liquor situation. Mr. Myers spent several days in San Francisco and reached here yesterday morning, where he had interviews with the local prohibition enforcement officers.

Accompanying Mr. Myers is E. C. Yellowley of San Francisco, who has been acting prohibition director since the death of Lorin A. Handley, and J. G. Weisbach, who will remain in Los Angeles to open headquarters, where he will act as the "listening post" for Director Yellowley. Mr. Myers will leave this afternoon for Washington and Director Yellowley will go north to San Francisco today.

"I want it to be distinctly understood," said Mr. Myers in speaking of the liquor enforcement situation, "that we propose to hew to the line and let the chips fall where they may. Instead of there being a door left open for the secret violators of the law, every opening will be closed, and as long as the Volstead and kindred enactments remain on the statute books they will be enforced mercilessly."

The official said that it was one of his duties to reorganize and add to the force of prohibition enforcement officials in California. This had been done in San Francisco, and it would be done here, Mr. Myers stated. He refused to go into detail regarding the changes already made or contemplated, but said that inefficient officers had been found and it was proposed to get successors who would enforce the law without winking at the violators.

"I know there is criticism here in Los Angeles about the enforcement of the prohibition law," he said. "I know that the arrests so far made consist of aliens who do not fully understand the law and imagine they are entitled to what they call their personal freedom, and to those who have been caught with a bottle of intoxicating liquor or wine in their pockets, without any very wicked intent to fly in the face of the officers. I also know that complaints have been made that many of the higher-ups have not been touched, and that it is possible to get liquor in many place open and above board, if the purchaser has the price. But they will be gone after. We are not going to play any favorites. As long as the prohibition law remains on the statute books it is going to be enforced, and there is going to be a better functioning on the part of all concerned. That is one of the reasons I am here. A reorganization has been effected in San Francisco, and other changes have been made. Still others are in contemplation, but I do not care to say what they will be."

INSPECTORS OUSTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Edward A. Kenney, chief inspector of the State prohibition enforcement office, and William Madden, an inspector, have been relieved of their duties, it was announced today by John L. Considine, district prohibition enforcement officer. The office has been under investigation by officials of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Kenney and Madden denied any irregularities.

ARREST DRUGGISTS.

A. J. and J. A. Cragleo, brothers, conducting drug stores at 6515 Compton avenue and at Long Beach and Florence avenues, with their clerk, H. M. Jack, were taken into custody yesterday by Dep. U. S. Marshal Monteleone, charged with violation of the Volstead Act.

It is charged that at these stores they made a specialty of dealing in alcohol and Jamaica ginger, all warranted to produce a kick. All three gave bond before U. S. Commissioner Long.

CLASH ABOUT SOUL.

Artist Charges Wife Continually Said His was Lost.

Ernest E. Klein, an artist, complained yesterday in Judge Taft's court, where he asked for a divorce from Henrietta Klein on the ground of cruelty, that she continually informed him that his soul was lost by his remaining in the motion-picture business. She not only told him this, he said, but she wrote him to that effect.

Mrs. Klein, in a cross-complaint for separate maintenance, denies these charges. She was not continually trying to save his soul, she says. The case was not concluded when court adjourned.

SAYS HUSBAND HIT HER WITH A BROOM.

In a suit for separate maintenance filed yesterday Mrs. Hallie A. Baker charges her husband, Harry M. Baker, a scenic artist, became angry when she asked him for money to buy provisions for herself and daughter and struck her with a broom and cursed her. She asks for $150 a month, the custody of her daughtre and an order restraining her husband from molesting her or interefering with the child.

WIFE GETS ALIMONY TILT.

Queenie and Guy C. Wood, who have been in court a number of times trying, without success, to sever their marital ties, were before Judge Crail yesterday in alimony proceedings. This time Mrs. Wood succeeded in having $3 added to her alimony of $8 a week, and scored a point. The case will be tried on its merits later.
